Radio Stations Silenced For Defense Test

Conelrad System Takes Over In Mock U.S. Alert

Radio station KTIM was off the air today from 11 to 11:30 a.m. as part of a national Conelrad test which included the silencing of all regular radio and television broadcasting for a test of civil defense preparations.

KTIM manager Hugh Turner said the operation "went off like clockwork." He said there were no calls of inquiry nor to his knowledge did any stations violate the silence period.

INSTRUCTIONS

He said that just before 11 a.m. KTIM listeners were told to tune their radios to 640 or 1240 kilocycles which would carry survival information on what to do if there should be an enemy attack.

The 54 AM stations which were on the Conelrad frequencies were "anonymous to confuse the navigation of the enemy," Turner said.

During the mock attack on the nation, called "Operation Alert 1960," President Eisenhower, in a transcribed message transmitted over Conelrad, told the nation that "our entire civil defense program is of extreme importance to every American."

'DETERRENT'

The President said "the combat readiness of our Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines —together with our allies—provides a strong deterrent to possible war." But he added that "it would be unwise to neglect our civil defense mission because our total defense is incomplete and meaningless without reliable and responsible home defense."

Ike Asks Congress Put Politics Aside

Hits Partisan Rivalry In Legislative Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower called on Congress today to enact his legislative program without allowing politics to interfere. He gave top rating to foreign aid and farm legislation.

Eisenhower also told Congress there is need of restraint in new authorizations for federal spending.

"Federal accounts should be balanced with enough left over for a reasonable payment on the public debt, on which we are already paying for interest alone more than nine billion dollars per year," he said.

"We must resist the temptations, this or any year, to overspend the taxpayer's hard-earned dollars and overcentralize responsibilities in the federal government," for America's sake, he said.

BIG ACHIEVEMENT

Eisenhower said the one major accomplishment of Congress thus far is enactment of civil rights legislation.

Eisenhower said much legislation remains to be acted upon.

"Too great a preoccupation with events of an election year could seriously impede constructive effort. With Congress controlled by one party and the executive branch by the other, these difficulties could become severe," he said.

"We should jointly resolve that the shortness of time and political rivalries will not be allowed to prevent us from serving the American people effectively."

FOREIGN AID

Urging Congress to approve his $4,175,000,000 foreign aid program, Eisenhower said this program serves the nation at large rather than any particular locality, section or group.

Turning to agriculture, Eisenhower said that in no domestic area is there a more obvious need for corrective legislation.

He recalled that he recently advised Congress that within broad guidelines he would approve any constructive farm bill Congress might enact.

Eisenhower also asked Congress to expand the sugar law, which expires this year. He said a four-year extension of the present sugar program, modified to give a president authority to adjust quotas in order to assure America an adequate supply, is needed to give farmers and processor the time to plan.

Turning to other recommendations for legislation, Eisenhower remarked that "some of the measures are of a kind that, at the expense of responsible government tends to be shunted aside in an election year."

He mentioned:

1. An urgent need for enough additional federal judges to hear the greatly increased number of cases being filed each year.

2. His request of last June for removal of the 4¼ per cent interest ceiling on long-term government bonds.

3. Adequate new revenues for the highway trust fund "so that we may keep this very important highway program on schedule."

4. His repeated request to liberalize immigration laws.

5. Money for modern office facilities for the White House, and renewal of presidential powers to reorganize the ex-

MARIN ELIGIBLE VOTERS REACH ALL-TIME HIGH

Marin County now has 62,351 registered voters for the June 7 primary, the largest number ever, County Clerk George S. Jones reported today.

One year ago, registration totaled 56,252. For the general election of 1958, the total registration was 62,107.

A breakdown by political parties shows the Republicans still leading with 31,987, as compared with 23,455 Democrats. There is one Prohibitionist, and 1,908 who declined to state party affiliation.

The Democrats, now about 3,500 behind the Republicans, have shown a slight gain. A year ago the gap was 4,200, and for the 1958 general election, Republicans led by 3,700.

Hospital Board Chief Hurt In Auto Accident

Dr. Wilson P. Goddard, chairman of the board of Marin County Hospital District, walked 12 miles from Alpine road to his home in Bolinas last night after his car missed a curve, rolled 40 feet and caught fire.

His neck was kinked and he was bruised. His hand was burned as he tried to put out the fire. But otherwise, Dr. Goddard said today, he was only tired. The car was ruined.

Dr. Goddard said he was on his way to Fairfax to see a patient about 5 p.m. yesterday when "I hit a soft shoulder in the road half way between Alpine dam and the Meadow club." He admitted he may have misjudged his speed on the curving road.

The car went over the embankment and rolled some 40 feet, crashing into trees as it stopped.

As Goddard crawled out, the vehicle had started to blaze.

The horn, stuck by the crash, brayed constantly. But it attracted nobody.

Dr. Goddard got out a hand fire extinguisher and tried to put out the blaze. Failing, he sat down by the side of the road and watched the car burn.

He sat there until darkness fell. Then, he related, he walked to Alpine Dam to look for a telephone but could not arouse anyone. Then he walked down the mountain, some 12 miles to his home in Bolinas.

He reached home about 1 a.m. and telephoned Mill Valley Police Officer Edward Grigg to report the accident.

(The scene is far from Mill Valley. The California Highway Patrol said it had received no report from Mill Valley police today.)

"Not a soul came along," said Dr. Goddard. "It's a lonesome part of the country."

The doctor has his office in Mill Valley.

113 Students Suspended For Chessman Demonstration

One hundred thirteen Redwood High School students were suspended from school yesterday for cutting classes to stage a demonstration against capital punishment after the execution of Caryl Chessman.

The Redwood students' attempt to include Sir Francis Drake High School students in the demonstration at the San Quentin Prison gates was foiled by a San Anselmo policeman.

Principal Donald Kreps said some of the suspensions were for five days, others for three days.

Kreps said the students — mostly upperclassmen — gathered in the parking lot during a break between second and third periods at 10:30 a.m. and on the spur of the moment decided to pile into cars and demonstrate they did not approve of Chessman's execution.

The convoy of 29 cars roared off in the direction of Drake High but was intercepted on Sir Francis Drake boulevard by Patrolman Chester Orr of the San Anselmo Police Department.

Orr spotted four cars filled with teen-agers about 11 a.m. when the drivers began honking their horns.

The police officer stopped the cars and asked the youngsters what they were doing out of school. But before they had time to give an explanation, 25 more cars of the convoy pulled up on the scene. Patrolman Orr said the students told him they had been dismissed from school for two hours because of the Chessman execution.

CARS TURN BACK

Orr said he instructed the drivers to leave town because they were obstructing traffic. The drivers then turned back on Sir Francis Drake boulevard. Orr notified high school officials.

Kreps notified Tamalpais High School authorities to be on the lookout for the convoy.

The caravan did not show at the Tamalpais High campus until 12:20 p.m., reported John George, assistant principal. He said the Redwood students apparently were then on the way back to their own campus from San Quentin.

CIRCLE CAMPUS

The Redwood convoy circled the Tam campus but did not stop, George said. But its presence was felt. George reported that 40 students from Tam "were imbued with the idea" and unexpectedly took the afternoon off.

The Tamalpais students who went AWOL are expected to make up the time they lost in cutting class, the assistant principal said. They were not suspended from school, however.

When the convoy finally pulled back into the Redwood High parking lot shortly after visiting the Tam campus, school officials were waiting for it. The students were suspended from class for either three or five days depending on their previous deportment records, Kreps said.

Nicasio Dam Construction Work Begins

The rumble of bulldozers echoed through quiet Nicasio Valley yesterday as earth-moving work began on long-planned Nicasio Dam.

Cherf Brothers and Sandkay Contractors of Euphrata, Wash., in joint venture with Cheney Construction Co. of Seattle, started work on a $1,750,000 contract for erecting the earth-fill dam and building a new section of the Pt. Reyes-Petaluma road to skirt the section that will be flooded by the 1,700-acre reservoir which will be formed as the dam holds back Nicasio Creek water. The job is scheduled for completion Dec. 15, in time to hold next winter's rain.

The full board of county supervisors, headed by Chairman Walter R. Castro, and the full board of directors of Marin Municipal Water District, headed by president Robert G. Anderson, visited the site yesterday for an informal groundbreaking observance.

The dam will be located about four miles east of Point Reyes Station. First stage of the project will be construction of a new bridge across the creek about half a mile below the dam as the first step in rerouting the highway.

The official visit to the construction site was preceded by luncheon at Rickey's Rancho Rafael, where supervisors and water district directors met with construction officials.

Unseasonable Rain Should End Tonight

"It never rains in Marin in May," but it did today.

Rain began early this morning, and by noon had deposited .18 of an inch in San Rafael.

The un-May-like storm caused cancellation of today's scheduled baseball game of the San Francisco Giants vs. the Milwaukee Braves at Candlestick Park.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said it will be cold tonight—with the rain gone but some snow still falling in the Sierra Nevada.

Belvedere and Tamalpais Valley had .2 of an inch of rain by 8 a.m., Sausalito .17 of an inch, Chevy Chase district of Larkspur .16 of an inch, Novato and Mill Valley .10 of an inch.

Chessman Cremation Held Without Rites

The body of Caryl Chessman, gassed at San Quentin Prison yesterday after nearly 12 years on Death Row was cremated today without ceremony at Mt. Tamalpais Cemetery at San Rafael.

Harry M. Williams Mortuary was in charge, having been retained for the fourth time during the course of Chessman's eight postponements of execution.

Chessman himself had made the arrangements through his attorney, executor and close friend, Rosalie Asher, who battled for his life through legal channels over a period of years to the end.

Analysis of what Chessman left, in addition to worldwide uproar and a renewed California drive against continuation of capital punishment, boiled down to:

1. Five boxes of papers, reference books, writings and minor personal belongings.

2. Debts which shortly before death he estimated at $18,000 in spite of estimated literary earnings of $150,000, gone to lawyers, a private detective and his father's former housekeeper to whom he was once engaged.

3. Prospects for further earning from his four prison-written books, including one novel, "The Kid Was a Killer," never published previously in the United States but issued here yesterday.

(Stories on world and California reaction to Chessman's execution are on page 12.)

Tiburon Fire Budget Calls For 25-Cent Tax Rate Cut

The Tiburon Fire Protection District tax rate will drop 25 cents for 1960-61 if the preliminary budget agreed upon at last night's meeting is retained.

The $58,211.70 budget calls for a tax rate of approximately 63 cents. This year's rate is 87 cents.

June 13 was set as the date of the final budget hearing.

The budget includes $28,364.70 for capital outlay, $13,000 for construction of the Trestle Glen substation and $12,730 in salaries.

The latter includes $450 a month for one paid fireman in the department. Whether it will be a daytime man or two live-in night men was not decided.

Commissioner Fred Mantegani felt the firehouse should be covered at night. Commissioner Fred C. Hannahs suggested an additional daytime man to assist Fire Chief Frank J. Buscher.

Commissioners elected Hannahs to the chairmanship and Mantegani as vice chairman. Mantegani abstained from voting on either motion, but it was unanimous to re-elect Kelly J. Wheeler secretary. Commissioners decided to rotate the chairmanship annually.

Hannahs appointed Mantegani chairman of the committee to investigate the tidelands annexation to the district, assisted by himself and Harry M. Bragg. The subject of paid firemen will be reviewed by Commissioner Paul C. Hantzsche with Wheeler and Buscher on his committee.

TOO PEACEFUL THERE

Residents Say Explosive Street Name Doesn't Fit

People living on Estates drive in Sleepy Hollow are "very peaceful" with no relish for having the name of their street changed to "Gunpowder road," Supervisor William D. Fusselman reported to his fellow members today.

The Marin County Planning Commission reported a request for change not only of the name of Estates road, but also of Sulphur Spa, which would become known as "Daredevil Hill."

Peter Helms, vice president of the Sleepy Hollow Homes Assn., had suggested these changes. He said that in line with his group's desire to immortalize Washington Irving's literary achievements, Frank Berto of 190 Van Tassel court stood ready to provide 100 new names drawn from "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow" or "Rip Van Winkle."

But Fusselman indicated he had begun to hear sounds of distant thunder, or maybe little men rolling bowling balls his way.

"What action is wanted?" finally asked Chairman Walter R. Castro.

"Just don't do it!" said Fusselman with that familiar let-me-see-my-constituents look. So the board unanimously did nothing.

Missile Shuttle Tests Scheduled

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Air Force is opening tests that may lead to trains shuttling intercontinental missiles over the nation's 100,000 miles of railroad.

The purpose: To make the missiles less vulnerable to attack.

The tests start June 20 from Hill Air Force Base, Utah, with a 14-car test train moving at random over rail lines in that area for seven days.

SAN RAFAEL SAYS 'NO'

Civic Center Eyed As Site Of Heliport

Heliport privileges were asked at the new Marin County Civic Center today.

Pending clarification of just what was going on and what a heliport might mean, the Marin County Board of Supervisors filed the application temporarily.

It was made in a letter to County Administrator Donald A. Jensen by H. L. (Buck) Rogers of Oakland, representing Bay Aviation Services Co. of San Francisco.

But the board knew Rogers had also applied to the City of San Rafael for permission to land and take off from a corner of the municipal parking lot at Second street and Lincoln avenue.

The city council last night rejected the application after Councilman Louis H. Baar said whirlybirds could create dust and other nuisances within the city.

The Rogers letter to Jensen was a 180-degree turnaround made last week after Richard L. Shirley, San Rafael Chamber of Commerce manager, took Rogers to the county administrator's office to look at a master plan of the Civic Center, said Jensen.

"When they left the office," Jensen wrote, "it was their decision that they would not be interested for several years until the Civic Center was more developed. On Friday the attached letter was received veversing that position."

Rogers wrote that he'd reported to his employers on the civic center and now "it is our desire to have our services in operation as soon as possible, between San Rafael and San Francisco.

"We would appreciate any effort on your part to establish a temporary site for the heliport at the civic center, rather than any other location."

Larkspur School Vote Very Light; Weather Blamed

Rain was apparently keeping voters away from the polls today in the Larkspur School District election on a $412,000 bond issue and $498,000 state loan proposal.

Up to noon, few more than 300 persons had cost their ballots in the district's five polling places in Corte Madera and Larkspur. There are 4,167 registered voters.

Polls will close at 7 p.m.

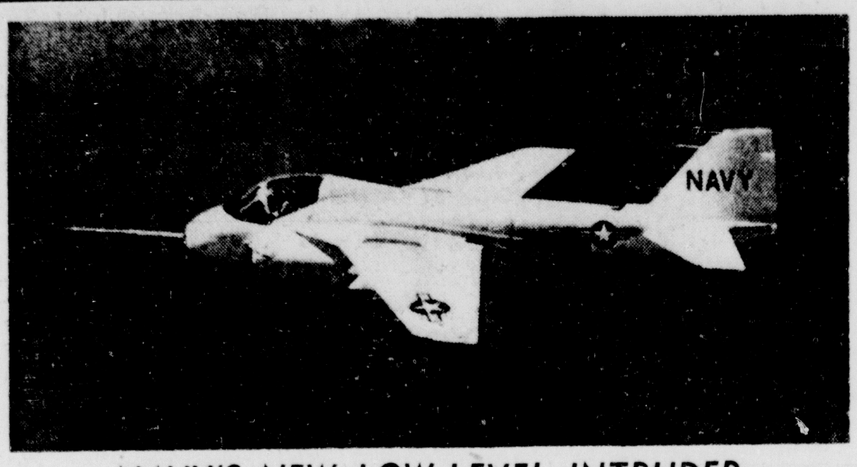

Passage of the bond issue would qualify the district for state aid toward construction of a fourth elementary school and additions to exisiting schools.

Nunes Ranch Becomes Part Of San Rafael

San Rafael last night formally annexed the 400-acre Thomas Nunes ranch, despite a last-ditch protest by a Terra Linda resident.

Dr. M. J. Franzblau, of 768 Montecillo road, who is running for the Terra Linda Community Services District board, read a prepared report in opposition to the annexation. Without giving specific reasons, Franzblau called the annexation "irresponsible" and charged that it would "harm every resident of this city."

Immediately after his speech, the city council annexed the Nunes Ranch by unanimous vote.

City fathers last night also awarded a $24,728 contract to Ghilotti Brothers for installation of a storm drain on Lindaro street from Woodland avenue to Mahon Creek. The drain, about 850 feet long, will be completed by July. Ghilotti underbid three others. Highest bid was $41,232.

In other action, the council:

1. Postponed until May 16, a request for a duplex by Margaret Hidden on Ridge avenue off Belle avenue.
2. Postponed until May 16 a request for apartment zoning by Colonial Wax Products Corp. in the East San Rafael Assessment District. The area is now zoned for commercial and light industry.
3. Referred to the public works department a request for extension of DeLuca place to DuBois street. A half dozen businessmen made the request. They said big trucks have a difficult time turning around on dead end DeLuca.
4. Asked Building Inspector Clifford Monk to draw up a new ordinance regulating signs and provide councilmen with copies of the new ordinance.
5. Approved a six-lot subdivision for Edward W. Burgar Inc. on Palm avenue near Olive.
6. Hired Faye Marshall as recreation leader at a salary of $351.
7. Approved a settlment with the bonding company for Glenwood subdivision one to repair all defects in the subdivision. The bonding company will not be held liable for a sanitary line that runs from unit one to a pumping plant and force main on San Pedro road.
8. Agreed to pay $4,000 to Book Publishing Co. of Seattle for preparing proofs and binding 100 copies of the city's newly codified ordinances.
9. Asked the city manager to look into a smoldering fire that has started at the Morrison dump along San Quentin road. Mayor John F. McInnis said the fire started last week and has been burning underground ever since.

Redevelopment Unit Slates Demolition Of 7 Buildings

The Marin County Redevelopment Agency yesterday authorized the demolition of seven private buildings on Pacheco circle.

Bids will be asked for, by advertisement, in the next 10 days, Bert Klahn, executive director, said.

The agency also:

1. Discussed property negotiations on the Mary Rosa property and voted to accept a compromise settlement which is still subject to approval of the Urban Renewal Administration.
2. Was notified that subdivision map of units one, two and three have been cleared to allow early site improvement contracts.
3. Authorized Klahn to attend the governor's conference on housing, June 13, 14, 15 in Los Angeles.
4. Established that a hearing on the redevelopment plan will be held with the county board of supervisors in San Rafael at 3 p.m. on May 24.

Ramp Slated To Project At Marin City

The Marin County Housing Authority yesterday authorized a ramp to be built leading directly into the new low-rent housing project from the present Marin City entrance.

This will enable residents to drive right in to the new buildings instead of taking the present circuitous route. Construction on the ramp will begin next week, Bert Klahn, executive director, said, and will be completed in about two weeks.

The authority's commissioners yesterday also:

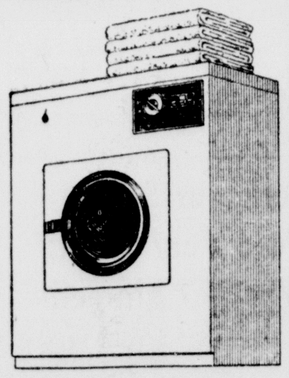

1. Authorized painting of the Hilarita housing project. The color has not been chosen but it will blend in with the hills. It will not be white, which was objected to when painting begun last year.
2. Gave Demolition contractor John Larson one week to come up with $10,000 representing the sale of 38 buildings to be removed within 90 days in order not to interrupt the redevelopment plan.
3. Gave Dr. H. E. Tompkins permission to move into the temporary medical building immediately.
4. Following discussions with members of the Sausalito School District, agreed that the housing authority would make every contribution possible to construction of a new school at Marin City to replace the present one. This school is separate from the one which has been approved to be started this month.

The Tiburon Sanitary District board last night tentatively decided that because of the two additional pump stations, the district should add 20 hours a month to the working force, reported secretary Robert A. Sterling.

In discussion of the 1960-61 budget, commissioners decided to work for a 10-cent tax rate reduction from 60 cents to 50 cents, Sterling said.

Network Chief Denies Clark Had Easy Oath

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The head of the ABC Network denied today that television disc jockey Dick Clark was permitted to sign a special "easy" affidavit stating he never took payola.

Leonard H. Goldenson told the House payola investigating subcommittee there was no significant difference in the wording of the "no payola" affidavit Clark signed last November and the one sworn to by other employees of the network.

CHARGE BY FREED

Goldenson, president of American - Paramount Theaters, Inc., and of its American Broadcasting Division, thus replied to a charge made by Alan Freed, former disc jockey for radio station WABC, the network's New York City outlet.

Freed was fired when he refused to sign ABC's standard affidavit denying he accepted payola. He has accused ABC of having a "double standard" and allowing Clark, star of the "American Bandstand" program to sign an easier affidavit than others did.

Goldenson said there was "no basis" to Freed's charge. He said Freed was fired "because he refused to provide us any information at all under oath upon which any judgment could be exercised."

110 SIGNED

Goldenson said ABC asked all employees involved in any way in music selection to sign the affidavit, and 110 persons responded with Freed the only exception.

He made public a letter which he said Freed wrote ABC last Nov. 21 branding the request for the affidavit "a lack of faith and understanding" and "improper and uncalled for."

Seepage Hits Paved Areas At Library

Defects have cropped up in the new section of San Rafael's library, City Engineer Dominic Selmi reported to the city council last night.

The new paved areas are failing, apparently because of underground water seepage, Selmi said. The T-bar support between the old and new portions of the building is also sagging a bit, he reported. He said test borings were made last year for the foundation supports, but at that time no seepage was found because of dry weather.

City fathers authorized the engineer to get soil engineers Abbot-Hanks of San Francisco to make new borings to see what type of drainage facility would divert the seepage.

Bid For Demo Nod Planned By McCarthy

Marin State Sen. John F. McCarthy announced today he will attempt a write-in campaign to win the Democratic nomination for senator from this 13th Senatorial District at the primary election June 7.

Republican McCarthy is unopposed in his own party.

The senator, who won both nominations in the primary of 1956 when it was possible to cross-file, said he hopes to have enough Democrats write in his name on their ballots to win the Democratic nomination.

"Party politics have rarely played a part in legislation I have written or supported for the benefit of Marin County," McCarthy declared. "I am hoping my many Democratic friends and supporters will enlist all the help they can to put over this write-in campaign."

McCarthy must beat two Democrats whose names will be printed on the ballot, Charles Geller, San Anselmo electrician and labor leader, and Max Miller, San Rafael painting contractor.

Under the law which eliminated cross filing, the name of no candidate of another party may be printed on a party ballot. However, if the candidate of one party is a victor by a write-in vote on the opposing party's ballot, and wins his own party's nomination, he will be deemed elected and will not have to even run in the November election.

Raymond Shone, San Rafael attorney, will actively handle the drive for write-in votes, McCarthy said.

The only woman president in the 90-year history of Wilson College in Pennsylvania, a liberal arts college for women, was Dr. Anna J. McKaeg, who served from 1911-1915.

Tam Trustees Approve First Draft Of Budget

Tamalpais Union High School District trustees last night approved the first draft of a proposed $3,644,649 budget for 1960-61 and gave all non-teaching personnel a $20 per month raise.

The board postponed a decision on salaries for teachers until a special meeting next Monday at 8 p.m.

The proposed budget is $289,284 more than the current $3,355,365 budget. Most of the increase is in instruction, including salaries for new teachers, Frank Cassou, director of business services for the district, told the board.

The budget also includes some increase in auxiliary services because of the schools' participation in National Defense Education Act programs under which the district and the federal government provide matching funds.

Maintenance is down $45,000 in the proposed budget. A heavy backlog of projects was carried out this year. Previously a number of projects had been postponed because of lack of funds.

Capital outlay also is down about $31,000 in the proposed figures.

The board will consider the budget again June 6.

The district's approximately 80 non-teaching employees who will get the $20 raise now earn from $300 to $600 monthly.

The board re-employed about 140 teachers for 1960-61.

Cassou reported meetings are under way between the district and Larkspur city officials on extension of Doherty drive to Redwood High School. Residents have complained that William avenue has been taking a heavy traffic load.

A new teacher, Richard L. Immenhausen, was hired to teach general mathematics at Tamalpais High School.

Mill Valleyan Has Kneecap Fracture

Frederick A. Peters, 64-year-old Mill Valleyan who lay all night on a lonely dirt road at Strawberry Point after his car went over a cliff, suffered a fracture of his left kneecap in the accident, attendants at Ft. Miley Veterans Hospital reported today.

Peters has only one leg. He lost his right as the result of World War I injuries and wears an artificial limb.

The accident victim, who lives at 23 Nelson avenue, Mill Valley, and works in a San Francisco meat company, crawled a quarter mile in search of help after the crash but was not found until yesterday morning. He will require hospitalization for several days, hospital attendants said.

Developer To Re-Do Paving Job

All of Elizabeth way extension will be repaved and faulty sections replaced by developer F. Lloyd Grandi, San Rafael City Atty. Albert E. Bagshaw reported to the city council last night.

City fathers, who had been prepared to set up an assessment district for repair of the rutted road, greeted the news almost in disbelief.

The city attorney said he and the engineer went to Elizabeth way with Grandi, and they marked off the faulty sections with chalk. Bagshaw said they had reached "amicable agreement," with Grandi promising to repair the faulty sections and repave the entire street.

The city would raise one manhole and repair a storm drain inlet.

FIVE STATES ARE CASTING PRIMARY BALLOTS TODAY

Nixon, Kennedy Showings In Ohio, Indiana Capture Major Attention

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Voters ballot in five primaries today.

Three touch the fortunes of presidential candidates. One focuses on civil rights. The fifth is a local affair.

The primaries in Indiana, Ohio, and the District of Columbia affect the candidates for the Democratic and Republican presidential nominations.

The primary in Alabama sends some signs to Democrats on whether to expect a Southern bolt over civil rights at the national convention in July.

The primary in Florida nominates candidates for governor, Congress, and the Legislature.

The day's major interest will center on the showings of Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts in Indiana and Ohio. The Republican totals for Nixon and delegate candidates pledged to him will be compared with the Democratic totals for Kennedy and those pledged to him.

Supporters of Adlai E. Stevenson hope the day will show a burst of popularity for him in the District of Columbia even though his name is not on the Democratic ballot there.

The only candidates on the ballot are Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and Wayne Morse of Oregon.

In Indiana, more than 700,000 persons are expected to vote. Kennedy and Nixon have only minor opposition on the presidential preference ballots.

Victories would bind Indiana's 34 Democratic convention votes to Kennedy and its 32 Republican convention votes to Nixon on the first ballots.

In Ohio, intramural fighting within both parties has perked up interest.

Despite these battles, Kennedy is sure to pick up 64 Democratic convention votes and Nixon at least 55 of the 56 Republican convention votes.

The other Republican vote could go to former Sen. George H. Bender. He is running as a delegate candidate pledged to himself.

On the Democratic side, one full slate supports Gov. Michael V. DiSalle as a favorite-son presidential candidate. DiSalle, however, is pledged to turn over these votes to Kennedy.

A dissident Democratic group opposes the DiSalle candidates in almost half the contests. The dissidents, however, also are pledged to Kennedy.

In Alabama, the selection of Democratic presidential electors overshadows all other political races.

There are 35 candidates for the 11 spots. One slate of 11 is pledged to bolt the Democratic Party rather than support a presidential nominee hostile to Southern racial tradition.

Another slate of 11 is pledged to support the party and its nominee. The other 13 candidates are running as independents.

NATO Backs Big Three

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) —The North Atlantic Treaty Organization gave its complete backing today to the proposals which the Western Big Three will submit to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev at the May 16 summit meeting.

This followed similar approval yesterday of the position of the three Western powers on disarmament, and on Germany and Berlin.

Hoffa Trial Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — James R. Hoffa has won an indefinite postponement of a trial aimed at his ouster as president of the Teamsters Union. It had been scheduled to start today.

Charges of misusing $600,000 of union funds were brought against Hoffa by the court-appointed monitors of the union. Hoffa has denied any wrong-doing.

The U.S. Court of Appeals granted the indefinite stay yesterday by a 2-1 decision.

The court majority said it wanted to hear a number of union appeals next week before allowing the trial to start.

Inflation Peril Cited

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Chamber of Commerce was told today that the threat of inflation is "as potent and dangerous as ever."

William A. McDonnell of St. Louis, board chairman of the chamber, urged that businessmen take a more active part in government to do something about it.

Despite "the temporary relaxation of inflationary pressures the threat is still there," McDonnell said in an address at the chamber's 48th annual meeting.

Hopps Judgment Near

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Formal written judgment in the case of Continental Bank and Trust Co. of Salt Lake City against Belvedere financier Stewart B. Hopps is expected in about 10 days, according to U.S. District Court Judge Louis E. Goodman.

The judgement will follow a preliminary order for judgment handed down by Judge Goodman March 31.

The suit was brought by Continental Co. acting as receiver of the Inland Empire Insurance Co. The suit alleges that Hopps looted Inland Co. and forced it into receivership in 1955.

The formal judgment is awaiting a finding of fact by counsel for both sides on Goodman's order for judgment.

Foreign Aid Bill Passes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate yesterday approved a $4,123,000,000 foreign aid authorization bill, and President Eisenhower warned against any major cuts when the actual money is voted.

The Senate measure, which merely sets a ceiling on aid spending, now goes to a Senate-House conference committee where lawmakers will hammer out a compromise with a House-passed $4,033,500,000 authorization.

In a nationwide radio-TV speech last night, Eisenhower said any deep cuts in his aid request would deal a "crushing defeat" to the Free World and lead to new international tensions.

Aadland Case Delayed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Beverly Aadland's mother, Florence, has won a delay in juvenile proceedings which could put the girl in a youth institution the next four years.

Hub Man To Leave Board Of Education

Lyman B. McBride of San Anselmo announced to the Marin County Board of Education last night that he will not be a candidate to succeed himself.

McBride, who was appointed in September, 1956, to fill out the term of Ernest Winkler, killed in an airplane crash, was elected to a full three-year term in 1957. It expires June 30 this year.

However, in the meantime the state Legislature changed the term of office for county school boards so that all of them will be for four years in the future. This left the terms of McBride and O. B. Cavanaugh of Stinson Beach expiring this year, but no election slated until next year. Under the law the board may appoint someone to fill the terms for the one year.

When discussion of procedure came up last night, McBride surprised his fellow board members by announcing he would not be a candidate even for the one-year extension of the term. He did not elaborate on his reason, but after the meeting said he was stepping out "because of the press of private business."

Cavanaugh, on the other hand, indicated he would be a candidate, and the board informally indicated its intention of re-appointing him for the year.

McBride's decision leaves the board with the job of appointing a representative who must live in the San Anselmo, Fairfax, Lagunitas or Nicasio Elementary School Districts. He will represent the area of those four districts under the recent redesignation of board areas in which the county was redistricted into seven, rather than five districts.

Applications or nominations for appointment to the post, which carries no salary, should be made to the board president, Mrs. Alce Ann Rust, in care of the county superintendent of schools office.

Mrs. Rust appointed five members of the board not involved: Herself, Robert G. Randolph, Mrs. Adele J. Alpers, Howard Chadd and Theodore V. Cole, to act as a committee to consider and recommend a replacement for McBride. Cole is committee chairman.

Under the appointment plan accepted last night, the committee will consider nominees and then Mrs. Rust will call a special meeting of the full board after the two terms expire June 30, but before the next official board meeting July 5. In this way, they decided the full board would be ready to go to work at the first regular meeting.

The board also agreed to a proposal of County School Supt. Virgil S. Hollis on a plan for appointing replacements to boards of trustees of school districts. This is the job of the county superintendent, but he proposed a committee of himself, one member of the county board and one representative of the County School Boards Assn. to set up such procedures. Mrs. Rust named herself to work with Hollis on this committee.

Hollis said there already exists a vacancy in the Lagunitas School District because of the resignation of Sterling E. Whitt. He said he expects "another resignation by the end of this week," but did not indicate in which district.

The superintendent also notified the county board it could expect at least three appointments to come before it at its June meeting, of trustees whose terms expire this year. These trustees are in a similar position as the county board members who terms expire June 30. Their terms cannot be extended to the next election, but they can be reappointed to serve until the election next May if the superintendent, with the consent of the county board, appoints them.

Young Suspect In School Burglary Held

A 14-year-old boy with a record of burglary in Sonoma County and the state of Washington and his two 11-year-old companions were arrested last night on suspicion of breaking into the Lynwood School in Novato Saturday night, peeling a file cabinet and taking $126 from a fireproof box.

Deputy Gerald Fries spotted the three boys on a Novato street shortly after 10 p.m. and becoming suspicious, picked them up.

Investigation of the 14-year-old's trailer home at Bobo's Trailer Court uncovered a rifle, pistol and shells the boys purchased with their loot, Fries said.

A woman resident of the trailer court, identified as Ida Carter, was arrested on a suspicion of receiving stolen goods.

Investigation showed the 14-year-old had a record of burglary in Sonoma County and the state of Washington.

The two 11-year-olds will be cited to juvenile court, Fries said.

Suspect Must Hire Her Own Lawyer

Yesterday, Public Defender Peter Allen Smith appeared in Marin Superior Court and announced he cannot defend Miss Stumer on the felong check charges because she is ineligible for public legal assistance. She is scheduled to appear with her own attorney next Monday.

Only those without money are represented by the public defender. Those who are financially able must hire their own lawyers.

Midnight Stroll In Nude Reported

Sheriff's deputies searched the area, but couldn't find the barest trace.

Committee To Explain Dixie Tax Hike Urged

Members of five committees meeting with Dixie School District trustees last night suggested a new committee be named to improve the explanation of the proposed tax increase for the district.

The 35 persons attending last night's meeting thought the explanation of the 62-cent tax boost "needed refining," Supt. Dennis B. Willis said today.

If the $1.83 per $100 assessed valuation is raised to $2.45, at the polls June 7, Willis said the money would be used as follows: $28,500 for the hiring of a librarian and four additional teachers; $9,500 for the employing of a fulltime curriculum specialist; $13,800 for ground improvements such as black topping and purchase of physical education equipment; and $14,000 for the buying of library books and equipment to improve the science and mathematics programs.

Four committeemen were chosen by Howard Council, Dixie School District Coordinating Council president, to meet with Willis and Asst. Supt. Joseph Goff Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the district office to "refine" the explanation.

2 Planners Appointed In Belvedere

E. K. Ellison, attorney, and George V. Banning, architect, were appointed to the Belvedere Planning Commission by the city council last night. They replace Thomas M. Lacey and Thomas L. Wark, whose terms expired.

Lawrence (Bunk) Mercereau was reappointed fire chief; Mrs. Ida M. Scott, fire commissioner; Dr. Donovan O. Cooke, city health officer, and Dr. Flint, sanitary commissioner.

Councilman H. Nordmark Williams was appointed chairman of the finance committee, to be assisted by Councilman E. G. (Ned) Weed and Flint.

Recreation commission members Mrs. Robert Bastian, Mrs. John Moore, and chairman E. Allen Steinau Jr. were unanimously appointed.

The only discussion during the appointment was when Williams suggested that "we need a woman's influence on the planning commission" and recommended Mrs. Kitty Heynemann. Planning Commissioner George Goddard had recommended Allison and Banning and the council felt it should go along with his recommendation.

15-Year-Old Tam Valley Girl Missing

Sheriff's deputies issued an all-points bulletin last night for a 15-year-old Tamalpais Valley girl who failed to return home from school yesterday.

She is Louise Marie Garrett of 417 Pine street, Tamalpais Valley. She is about five feet tall, weighs 128 pounds, has brown eyes, and wore glasses, white blouse, flowered skirt with pink belt, and white shoes.

Robert Ellinghouse, her stepfather, called the sheriff at 8 p.m. He said his wife had waited at school for Louise, but the girl failed to show up.

A San Rafael girl, reported missing Saturday night, is back home safely. Police said Leslie Carol Sullivan, 14, of 11 Southern Heights boulevard, left home after an argument but crept back into the basement of her home and slept there overnight.

Ex-Planner Named Again In San Rafael

Charles J. Hendrickson, who resigned as a member of the San Rafael Planning Commission last summer because of pressure of business, was reappointed to the commission last night by the city council.

Councilman Fred Jensen said he had heard Hendrickson now has more time and is willing to serve if appointed. The vote was unanimous. Hendrickson is a building contractor.

The city fathers also voted a $50 per month allowance for Joan Castrillon, planning technician, who has been acting as city planner since Mitchell Baird quit last month.

Councilmen commended her work and asked her to help them with planning matters during city council meetings. Miss Castrillon is now drawing $416 per month. City Planner Baird was getting $625 per month.

Mrs. Marie Poppe, 58, of Forest Knolls, was held for treatment of chest and arm bruises, a cut lip and possible internal injuries.

Richard L. Jones, 20, of Forest Knolls, the bus driver, told California Highway Patrolman Keith Craig that he was just coming to a stop on the left shoulder of the highway when Mrs. Poppe turned right off Montezuma road and crashed with the bus.

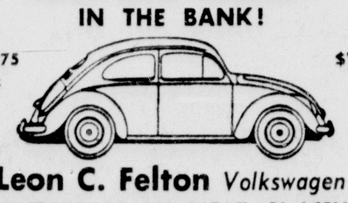

Jones had no explanation of why his bus was on the left shoulder of the highway, said Officer Craig.

Tiburon Fire Commissioner Airs Criticism

Fred Mantegani, Tiburon Fire Protection District commissioner, today turned to the Independent-Journal to carry his case for employment of paid firemen to the people of Tiburon, declaring he "just couldn't get to first base" at last night's meeting of the commission.

Mantegani presented a prepared statement which he said he was issuing "so that taxpayers will know a little of what is going on."

THE STATEMENT

In it, he said:

"On April 4 the commission passed a resolution of intention on long-term goals of the district, one of which was a substation. I suggested that there were quite a few good architects in the district and all who were interested should meet with the commission for consideration.

"With all due respect to the architect chosen (E. Allen Steinau Jr. of White, Herman and Steinau, I want the people to know he was hired four days after these goals were made public without considering any other architect.

"Other commissioners said these goals would be discussed and we should decide which should come first, the substation, the paid firemen, remodeling the main fire station, etc."

PAY-AS-YOU-GO

Mantegani criticized the commission's "using cash on hand and future income for substation construction which will result in our asking the county for $7,500 for operating funds to carry us through the summer months.

"I like the pay-as-you-go plan."

He said the substation will not help to reduce fire insurance rates in the district. "If some of our income went now to paid men instead of capital outlay, we wouldn't have to borrow and our rate would go down," he declared.

Perjuror Given Jail, Probation

Mrs. Shirley J. Wisener, 37, of Novato, who gave false information in an attempt to collect accident damages from Greyhound Lines last year, must serve 60 days in county jail and remain on three years probation.

She was sentenced yesterday by Judge N. Charles Brusatori of Marin Superior Court for perjury.

Mrs. Wisener sued Greyhound for injuries she claimed she suffered getting off a bus on Jan. 1, 1958. During the jury trial last October, she testified she had never had previous back or headache trouble, blackouts or neck trouble.

Greyhound attorneys produced Veterans Administration records showing she had claimed blackouts, headaches and backaches in 1954 from injuries suffered in 1943 while working for the Marine Corps.

The accident damage suit was tossed out of court, and Mrs. Wisener charged with perjury.

Novato Council, Sewer Board To Hold Joint Meet

A meeting between the Novato City Council and board members of Novato Sanitary District has been set for Monday at 8 p.m. in the sanitary district office at the foot of Davidson street, it was announced today by Thomas Hardcastle of the sanitary district board.

The two groups will study the advisability of forming a joint operation of the sanitary district and the city, Hardcastle said.

"Both groups are interested in economy," Hardcastle said. "It will be the responsibility of the sanitary board members to see that the interests of those living within the district but outside the city limits are represented in any agreement."

The city council approved such a meeting some weeks ago.

Director Speaks For Water Bonds

Richard O'Connell, North Marin Water District director, appeared before the Loma Verde Home Owners Assn. last night in the first of a series of speaking engagements scheduled by the Citizens Committee for Novato Water Bonds.

O'Connell reviewed the background of the district and urged support of a forthcoming bond issue which would finance a viaduct for bringing Russian River water to the North Marin area.

Next public information forum scheduled by the committee will be at noon Friday when Ed Grindstrom, Novato attorney who is a member of the committee's speakers bureau, will appear before the Novato Rotary Club at Rickey's Rancho Rafael.

Planners Reject West Marin Tract

Plans of Drake's Beach Estates, Inc., for a 50-acre subdivision at the end of Limantour Spit, four miles southwest of Inverness Park, were rejected in a split vote by the Marin Planning Commission late yesterday.

Planning Director Mary Summers recommended the turndown on the basis that the developer proposed to serve the area with private roads which would not meet county specifications, and that no solution was offered to water and sewage disposal problems.

Despite Mrs. Summers' recommendation, Commissioner George Scott moved the tentative map be approved. But only Commissioner George Ludy, an Inverness resident, joined him in voting "yes." The other three members present dissented.

Commissioner Margaret Azevedo then moved the map be rejected. This motion passed 3-2, with Scott and Ludy voting "no."

The rejection calls for the developer to redesign the plan to bring roads to county standards and to provide water and sewage disposal solutions meeting the approval of the county health department.

The county planning commission approved a tentative map of an approximately 13-acre subdivision, Tara Hill, located above Rolling Hills subdivision on the Tiburon Peninsula.

Among some 17 applications for adjustments, the commissioners approved an application to permit the West Marin Veterinary Center to remain on Bear Valley road in Inverness.

The planning staff pointed out that the property is located in a limited agricultural district, and ,under the comprehensive ordinance, this use would be restricted to industrial districts only.

Approval was recommended, however, since the whole Western Marin area would be denied a necessary use and be adversely affected if this use was not allowed in an agricultural area, the planners said.

The commission also:

1. Approved an application for adjustment to permit development of plans for less than the entire Red Hill master plan area in Tiburon and consideration of the plans on a sector basis.
2. Approved erection of a 24-foot sign reading "Pantry" on the DeLucchi Fish and Poultry Market building on Redwood Highway, Ignacio, on condition that existing illegal signs be removed.
3. Asked the staff to work out special zoning for the Dillon Beach area, envisioning a reduction in setback requirements.
4. Agreed to architectural supervision of the design by Novato Markets, Inc., of a small shopping center at the east end of Loma Verde, on the south side of Entrada drive. A market building is to be constructed immediately, with another building for smaller stores later, according to William Jonas, who appeared for the developer.
5. Approved the tentative map of the 3½-acre, 11-lot Karl Katlas subdivision on Eucalyptus avenue just outside Novato.
6. Approved the tentative map of Millwood Terrace Unit 2, a 6½-acre subdivision, including a variance from ordinance requirements to permit a 17 per cent grade on Irene court.
7. Approved the Marin County Redevelopment Agency's plans for units two and three of the Marin City redevelopment project.
8. Approved developer P. J. Tarrant's application for rezoning of a 160-foot strip along La Brea way in Santa Venetia, from Adrian way to North San Pedro road, from commercial zoning to apartment zoning with a requirement of 1,500 square feet for each apartment unit.
9. Approved 15 and continued two applications for variances from county zoning ordinances.

Water Pact Final Look Set Tonight

North Marin Water District directors will take a final look tonight at the contract with the City of Petaluma and the Sonoma County Flood Control and Water Conservation District to bring water to Novato from the Russian River.

The directors will meet at 8 o'clock.

At a meeting yesterday in Santa Rosa, Jerome B. Gilbert, North Marin Water District manager, sat in as an observer while Petaluma and Sonoma officials "Ironed out their last differences" on the contract.

Formal signing of the three-way agreement is scheduled next Monday at 8 p.m.in the Sonoma County supervisors' chambers. The North Marin portion of the agreement was approved by the local district directors at a special meeting last Friday.

The agreement calls for a viaduct from Novato to the Wohler intake on the Russian River via Petaluma, to deliver 10,000 acre feet of water annually to Novato. Cost of North Marin's share in the project would be paid through a $3,790,000 water bond issue which will come before the voters for approval on June 7.

Recreation Zone Plan Hearing Set

Creation of recreation zoning in the unincorporated areas of Marin County will be aired at a public hearing of the Marin County Planning Commission on May 16.

The new zone was proposed to the commission late yesterday by Planning Director Mary Summers. Its creation would entail immediate rezoning of the Rose Verral property acquired by the Richardson Bay Foundation, and of the Marin forts properties that are or will become surplus and have been proposed for inclusion in a state park spanning the Golden Gate.

As proposed, the recreation zone would permit public buildings and private commercial structures related to the recreational use of the land. The latter might include hot dog stands and similar concessions, Mrs. Summers said. Both public and private development for recreational use would be permitted within such a zone.

Council Votes Traffic Changes In San Rafael

San Rafael will try a new traffic pattern along Irwin and Third streets in an effort to ease congestion during commuter rush hours at the Irwin street underpass and Third and Irwin.

The new pattern is scheduled to go into effect in three or four weeks.

City councilmen last night passed a resolution to make the following changes:

No parking will be allowed at any time along Irwin street between Mahon Creek and Irwin street. This is the block in front of the Coca Cola Bottling Co. and Ames Ford Sales.

Northbound cars coming off Highway 101 onto Irwin street will not be allowed to left turn under the underpass during rush hours of 7 to 9 a.m. and 4 to 6 p.m. They would proceed north on Irwin, then turn off on Third or subsequent streets.

In heading north on Irwin, motorists will be able to use two lanes because no parking is allowed in front of Ames and Coca Cola. With only one lane at present, one car trying a left turn at Third holds up the entire procession, Public Works Supt. Norris Rawles pointed out.

From 4 to 6 p.m., no parking will be allowed on the east side of Irwin from Third to Mission. On the north side of Third street between Grand avenue and the highway underpass between the hours of 7 to 9 a.m. and 4 to 6 p.m.

A tow-away clause will be added to the traffic ordinance to enforce the restrictions.

Rawles said it would take about three weeks for him to get the appropriate signs.

In other traffic matters, Mrs. John Leaf of 169 Terrace avenue announced she objects to the council's proposal to adopt a $7.50 fee schedule to permit all night parking in residential streets. "We who have no driveways or garage are penalized," she declared. "I don't know the answer, but I object."

"We don't either, but we're groping for a solution," Mayor John F. McInnis replied.

At the previous meeting, the city fathers decided to charge a $7.50 fee for anyone who wants to leave cars on streets overnight. The ordinance has not been drawn up as yet.

Brown Approves Bills Creating State Colleges

SAN JOSE (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown announced today that he has signed legislation creating new state colleges in Los Angeles, San Bernardino and Sonoma counties.

The governor also approved a bill establishing an off-campus branch of Los Angeles State College in Riverside County.

The Sonoma bill, by Sen. Joseph A. Rattigan (D-Santa Rosa), establishes Sonoma State College at Cotati, but appropriates no money. However, the 1957 Legislature made $500,000 available for site acquisition.

Novato City Fathers To Pick Mayor

Election of a mayor will be the first matter under discussion tonight when the Novato City Council meets in the city hall at 8 o'clock.

No action on a permanent mayor was taken at the preceding meeting because of the absence of Councilman Everett Pozzi. Wayne Womack, the city's first mayor following the incorporation election in January, was named acting mayor pending a full council roll call tonight.

Council approval will be asked of a planning commission recommendation that the Marin County planning staff be employed by Novato for the coming fiscal year.

The planners last night voted to continue the county services after reviewing offers of professional planners Lawrence H. Livingston and Herman Ruth of Oakland and that of Mrs. Mary Summers, county planning director.

Services offered by the county planning staff would include updating of the zoning and subdivision ordinances, and the North Marin master plan.

Also on tonight's agenda is an appearance by E. Donald King, former president of the now defunct Monte Maria Community Services District, who will discuss with the council the city's responsibility in collecting taxes for the landscaping of the Monte Maria subdivision.

The first talking motion picture was demonstrated in New York City in 1928.

Guidance Consultant To Quit County Job

Another of the "team" that operated the Marin County superintendent of schools' office under Supt. Richard L. Foster resigned last night to join his former boss.

Ray A. Graber, guidance consultant in the pupil personnel services department, wrote the county board of education that he was resigning at the end of the present school year to join the Jefferson Elementary School District staff in Daly City. Foster is superintendent of that district.

The announcement came as a shock to County Supt. Virgil Hollis.

In the middle of the county board's meeting, the telephone rang and Graber went out to answer it. The call informed him that the Jefferson board had just approved his employment. He returned to the room and handed his resignation to Hollis.

The Marin board president, Mrs. Alce Ann Rust, had received Graber's letter announcing his intention before the meeting, but had not informed the superintendent, who is secretary of the board.

Graber expressed his appreciation for the five years he has served in the county and regreted leaving, but said he saw a better opportunity in the Daly City school system.

A second letter which Mrs. Rust read to the board was from half a dozen men, who signed themselves "Marin school psychologists," regretting that the contract of Mrs. Esther C. Whitman, another guidance consultant, had not been renewed for the 1960-61 school year. They praised her work with handicapped children and said she was "highly qualified" for the job.

The board filed both of the letters.

The board also:

1. Tentatively approved a draft of the administrative policies and procedures of the county superintendent's office and agreed to review their own regulations at their next meeting.
2. Heard a brief review of the county's audio-visual education program by Clarence E. Spence, director of that department.
3. Approved optional changes in the group disability insurance program available to the superintendent's office staff.
4. Adjourned in memory to the late Assemblywoman Dorothy M. Donohoe (D-Bakersfield), chairman of the Assembly Education Committee, who died during the recent legislative session.

Audubon Society To Hear Lecture

Members of the Marin Audubon Society will see a slide-lecture at the monthly meeting Friday at the College of Marin.

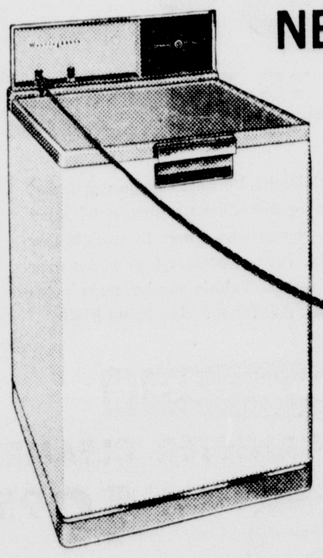

Edward Ross, curator of Entomology at the California Academy of Sciences, Golden Gate Park, will speak on "Hunting Insects in Madagascar." He led an expedition in 1959. The meeting is open to the public.

Members will head for Mt. Diablo State Park on their monthly field trip May 1. Other field trips are planned to Stinson Beach and Bolinas on June 4; Bodega Bay, July 9; Rodeo Lagoon, August 6.

The chicken barbecue planned for April 24, but cancelled because of rain, will be May 15 at Rose Verrall Wildlife Sanctuary, 376 Tiburon highway.

Fencing Labeled 'Discrimination'

Corte Madera can establish a "clear case of discrimination" in the state Division of Highways' fencing of property at the Corte Madera interchange on Highway 101, Town Councilman Roger F. Morse declared last night.

The recent fencing of the land prevents commuters from parking their cars there before boarding buses for San Francisco.

Morse said the state singled out Corte Madera and constructed a fence with public funds. "If they are going to build a fence at our interchange, let them do it everywhere," he declared.

The councilman suggested that a committee working on the problem do two things: Find out how many parking spaces would be available if the fence were removed, without any improvement to the property by the town, and take pictures of cars at the Alto interchange and other interchanges where highway property is being used the same way as it was at the Corte Madera interchange before the fencing.

An offer from the Division of Highways to lease the parcel to the town or to private enterprise for parking purposes was received last month after the town asked the state to reconsider its action in fencing the land. The proposal is still being studied by a council committee.

A member of the audience told the council the parking situation at the interchange is creating a hazard in the area. Cars are parking on both sides of the road.

The council approved a motion giving Marina Village property owners against whom condemnation suits are pending a limit of 10 days in which to file proceedings, if they and the council fail to reach a settlement on damages arising from the condemnations.

The property owners lost a seven-foot-wide strip of land needed for widening Paradise drive. At a previous meeting, councilmen decided to hold condemnation proceedings in abeyance pending negotiaions on damages.

Town atty. John B. Ehlen reported that negotiation are underway.

A resolution withdrawing the Marin County Day School tract from the Tiburon Fire District was approved by the council. The tract has been annexed to Corte Madera.

In other business, the council:

1. Adopted a resolution setting compensation for officers and employees of the town for 1960-61. The action, as discussed at the previous meeting, gives employees a 3 per cent acros-the-board cost of living raise. Members of the police force also get an additional raise to bring their total pay increase to about 10 per cent.

2. Reappointed Lynn Falch to the board of design for another four-year term.

3. Heard Councilman Albert Kogler report the Corte Madera recreation Center has doubled its services in three years.

4. Accepted an offer from Shell Oil Co. to pay one-half of the cost of pavement on that portion of the south half of Paradise drive in front of its service station now under construction.

5. Authorized the town manager to purchase fill for the south half of Paradise drive at 80 cents a cubic yard.

6. On recommendation of Police Chief Frank L. Nelson, introduced an ordinance to install a stop sign at Nellen and Fifer avenues.

7. Learned that plans and specifications for fill and grading of the town park may be ready at the June meeting.

8. Learned that Northwestern Pacific Railroad wants the town to relocate its road leading to its new drainage outfall because the railroad wants to lease the property. The town has an easement on the road so it can maintain its flood control structure. The agreement can be terminated on 30 days notice. Councilmen asked the town attorney to review terms of agreement and to check to see if the new lessee, George Bertram, a shipper, will permit the town to use the road.

9. Heard Mayor Edward Colthurst appoint Councilman Kogler to vote on behalf of the town at a dinner of representatives of cities in the nine Bay Area counties Thursday in Oakland.

10. Heard that Fifer Properties is appealing to the Larkspur City Council tomorrow night the Larkspur Planning Commission's approval of the erection of an Edgewater Inn advertising sign on railroad property just inside Larkspur. The Corte Madera council is supporting the appeal.

Seminary Official Hurt In Accident

Harry Roscoe Koontz, 40, of 245 Johnstone drive, Marinwood, publicity director for Golden Gate Baptist Seminary at Strawberry Point, was treated at San Rafael General Hospital for multiple bruises yesterday after being involved in a three-car pileup on Highway 101 near the Lincoln avenue north-bound juncture.

Having come to a stop behind a halted car driven by Anthony Paul Josph, 52, of Oakland, Koontz's auto was hit by one driven by Frank Howard Lascy Jr., 22, of 17 Roque Moreas, Mill Valley, attached to the 78th Hospital Battalion at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Lascy told the California Highway Patrol that his attention had been diverted by another car. He was cited for driving too fast for existing conditions.

GRADUATED — Army Pvt. Michael H. Langland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Langland, Marin City, recently was graduated from the 101st Airborne Division Jump School at Ft. Campbell, Ky., and received his paratrooper wings.

Attorney Succumbs

NEW YORK (AP) — Col. Henry Breckenridge, 73, attorney, assistant secretary of war under President Wilson and an intermediary in the Lindbergh kidnaping case, died yesterday of a heart attack. As attorney for Col. Charles A. Lindbergh when Lindbergh's baby was kidnaped in 1932, Breckenridge conducted the futile ransom negotiations.

$5 MILLION NEEDED

Flood Control Zone Consolidation Urged

Marin County Flood Control Commission last night unanimously decided to recommend to the board of supervisors consolidation of the present flood control zone on a countywide basis.

Polling of the commissioners showed needs across the county for flood control in the next 10 years total some five million dollars.

Commissioner George H. Connell of Santa Venetia said $100,000 would be needed in his district for a pump at Gallinas Village and that the building of the civic center could create a problem in the future.

Main flood problems in southern Marin were outlined for the commission by Bertram H. Hirsch of Mill Valley: $107,000 will be needed for the Tamalpais Valley project, $400,000 to connect a line from the water line to the school, and $100,000 for the Stinson Beach area.

Carlton E. Cherry of Larkspur estimated that three million dollars would be needed in the Ross Valley, and Chairman William K. Mayo of Novato said that $1,350,000 would be required in North Marin.

Mayo noted the "zone system hasn't worked out" and that under it "people didn't get very far." He estimated that a 20-cent tax rate yearly for the 10-year period would raise the needed five million dollars.

County Supervisor William Gnoss of Novato, speaking from the audience, noted his district "was getting along nicely for three or four years" taxing themselves and emphasized the possibility of individual projects "laying idle" under the proposed setup.

County Supervisor Vera Schultz of Mill Valley, who was also in the audience, speaking in favor of the consolidated flood control program, cautioned that unless her district is able to sign on the dotted line April, 1961 . . . with the Army Engineers "we will lose $400,000 the government is willing to put in the Coyote Creek project."

The commission voted to have Marvin W. Brigham, director of public works, draft a letter to be sent to the board of supervisors.

Book Firm's Plans To Be Unveiled

Plans for the McGraw-Hill Book Co.'s western headquarters and distribution center in Corte Madera's Fifer Industrial Park will be unveiled to the town's board of design at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in town hall.

The meeting originally was scheduled for last night, but was postponed.

Holy Innocents' Church will ask the board for approval of plans to add a second floor to its recreation and social building at Redwood and Tamalpais drive.

The board also will hear a request from a new gas station at El Camino and Paradise drive for an additional driveway on El Camino.

Victim Of Car Identified As Academy Cook

The pedestrian killed by a car yesterday on Highway 101 near the San Rafael city line has been identified as Chris H. Smith, 64, a cook at San Rafael Military Academy, Deputy Coroner Harry M. Williams reported today.

Smith was identified by the academy's chef, Ray Brough, after the business administrator, A. C. Agnew Jr., suspected the victim was Smith after reading a description in the Independent-Journal.

Smith, who was hit about 2 a.m. by a car driven by A/1c James Elmer Baylor of Hamilton Air Force Base, lived at the academy and had been employed there since March 14.

Agnew said he has "no idea" where Smith was going or where he had been just before the accident. He said Smith had been employed through a San Francisco employment agency.

A native of Boston, Mass., Smith survived by a brother, John J. Smith of Oakland.

Belvedere Tidelands Action Delayed Again

The Belvedere City Council last night for the second time put off action on the controversial home development proposed for the western tidelands of Belvedere Island.

Action was postponed until the June 6 meeting because the council was unable to meet with the planning commission to review a report submitted during the 10-month long battle over the subdivision.

The council set next Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Belvedere Community Hall as the date for review of engineering reports with the five members of the Belvedere Planning Commission.

"Since we were unable to spend an evening studying the facts because we are not anxious to be guilty of holding a secret meeting, we will hold an adjourned meeting May 11," Mayor Robert P. Watkins said.

The council had set last Friday night as the date of a closed meeting with the planning commission to review engineering reports on the western tidelands development.

"City Atty. William H. MacKay ruled there was a question of legality in holding a meeting with a quorum of the council, so we had a delightful social gathering on Friday, limited to discussions of the feathery cake served by Mrs. Scott, said Council E. G. (Ned) Weed.

Councilmen asked Belvedere Properties Co. for a continuance of its appeal of MacKay's ruling that the subdivision is illegal because it will be constructed on dangerous or inundated land. If the subdivider is not prepared for the hearing on June 6, the city council indicated a further continuance could be agreed upon.

Attorney Carl Hoppe, representing a group protesting the development, then rose and said: "We will have several hours of witnesses to examine and cross-examine at the public hearing. If the subdivider is not ready and the hearing is continued, then our witnesses will have to appear again.

The land company is calling the shots. If they are able to ask for a continuance, so should we."

The city council then agreed to set the date for any further continuance at the council's adjourned meeting on May 11.

The council also tabled action on the abandonment of streets and lanes within the city and the authorization of Brown and Caldwell to prepare final plans for the sewage district.

County Collection Division Proposed

If you don't pay your debts to Marin County you may soon be getting stirred up by a new central collections division in the office of the county auditor-controller.

This was proposed to the Marin County Board of Supervisors, and tacitly approved by it, in the course of consideration yesterday afternoon of the budget for the office of County Auditor Leon A. de Lisle.

County Administrator Donald A. Jensen, however, took responsibility for suggesting the new move. He explained that de Lisle approved but there was no reason for the auditor-controller to ask for inclusion of the expense entailed in his proposed budget.

Thus arose an odd situation in which the department head asked $112,900 for staff salaries whereas the administrator recommended $119,260 to take in the new operation.

"All kinds of accounts get overlooked if nobody is on the job about them," said Jensen. "For instance, the county recently lost $8,000 in a probate proceeding due to failure of the department concerned to file a creditor's claim within the statutory six-month filing period."

"That was just carelessness in the department," commented County Clerk George S. Jones.

The supervisors seemed favorably impressed. The budget suggested by Jensen was adopted on motion of Chairman Walter R. Castro.

The data processing bureau in the same office came in for a good deal of discussion. De Lisle said that through this, "Cities of the county are being saved about $75,000 a year—eight of the 10 will be using it next year with San Anselmo and Fairfax the only exceptions."

Calculation of the per cent of machine utilization showed a 35 per cent average, from a high of 60 for the key punchers to eight for the interpreter. De Lisle said use is rising constantly.

Total salaries and maintenance were approved on a recommended total of $79,446 as against $68,737 for last year.

Virtually instantaneous passage was accorded the budget of the veterans service officer, amounting to $26,452.

Recommended purchase of a polygraph or lie detector, already approved in the sheriff's budget, came up again in dealing with the district attorney whose requested $5,300 for "miscellaneous fees" included the usual San Francisco payment for polygraph work as well as expert testimony in drunkenness cases. Jensen pared this back to $5,000 in anticipation of polygraph purchase.

Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich gave notice he will appeal later for more salary for three investigators and also for his secretary, Peggy Kempton, who lost out on a raise last year by being off on vacation.

Weissich's budget was approved at $115,000.

The supervisors approved the county counsel's proposed budget of $63,314 and recommended that a study be made of the feasibility of charging special districts using the services of the county counsel.

It was pointed out that one-third of the time of the county counsel's office is devoted to special districts, so fees from such an arrangement might compensate for the cost of an additional deputy included in the budget.

Supervisor Vera Schultz said that in view of the special district work load, the districts should be told the services of the counsel will no longer be free to them. They should finance their own legal counsel through their own taxing powers, she said.

She also suggested the board should encourage communities to annex to cities rather than set up special districts which, she said, are not efficient.

Chairman Walter Castro said he would not want to be in the position of telling them to annex.

The supervisors also:

1. Accepted the superintendent of schools' budget with one minor change, a reduction of $1,050 in the printing category, because the board this year had appropriated the necessary funds for a two year supply of certain forms.
2. Accepted the $173,667 municipay court budget and recommended making a study of the possibility of opening the law library to the public instead of having it confined exclusively to use of attorneys.
3. Approved the following budgets: $2,765, justice court; $54,000 court trial expense; $2,500, San Quentin trial expense; $8,100, grand jury; $.4,475, coroner; $350, public administrator.
4. Added $3,000 to the county jail budget for additional costs of maintaining prisoners in other jails.

Two Death Penalty Foes Slated For Court Hearings

Caryl Chessman is gone, but the aftermath of yesterday's demonstrations against his execution continued to spill over into Marin courts today.

Two protestants, who were lifted bodily from the prison approach road yesterday morning, were scheduled to appear with an attorney this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court.

Franklin Stafford Harper, 30, instructor of English at San Diego State College, and Fritjof Peder Thygeson, 30, of Berkeley, an organizer for the Retail Clerks Union, are charged with unlawful assembly, remaining at an unlawful assembly after warning to disperse and resisting an officer.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos said the two men, along with several others, plunked themselves in a line across the road and would not budge. Cars could not get through to the prison gates.

Sheriff's deputies lifted them into patrol cars, then hauled them into the county jail.

Thygeson said he was protesting as a private citizen and not as an official of the Retail Clerks Union. Both men said they were protesting capital punishment with "passive resistance." They were hauled into jail with hands in their pockets.

Board Votes Changes In School Plans

The Sausalito School District board adopted a resolution last night accepting four changes in the building plans for the new Marin City Elementary School.

This means, according to Supt. Marcus F. Davis, that instead of four classrooms, there will be five. Also there will be a driveway and sidewalk, playground asphalt paving and a concrete block well.

The base bid on the school, was $94,331 and the federal fund was approximately 107,000. Alternates come to a total of $26,563. This will mean that the district will have to raise an additional $14,000, Davis said.

It is hoped to get started with construction of the building within 10 days, the superintendent added.

The board approved Arnold E. Griewe of Boyes Springs as building inspector on the project.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Chloresterol, a fatty substance believed to be a factor in heart disease, has been permanently curbed in test rabbits by a chemical.

Sausalito Principals Granted Pay Raises

The Sausalito School District board last night approved salary schedules for principals running from $8,100 to $9,900 in seven steps.

They also approved re-employment of the three principals in the district and raises for each one. Robert D. Thomson, principal at Richardson Bay School, will receive a $1,000 increase to $9,000 for next year.

Morris Brown, Marin City School principal, and Leo M. Shortino, principal of Central and Bayside schools, will receive $8,400 as compared with $7,900 this year.

The board approved all teacher contracts last night as recommended, said Supt. Marcus F. Davis. It granted tenure to Mrs. Adele Larson, eighth grade, Richardson Bay; Mrs. Barbara Womack, fifth, Bayside, and Mrs. Grace Black, fourth, Richardson Bay.

Hired on a one-year renewal basis were: C. R. Graham, speech therapist; Ferdinand Silva, foreign language instructor; Cesaer Claudio, instrumental music instructor; Mrs. Elinor Brubaker, home economics instructor; and Lawrence Nissim, boys' physical education instructor.

Approved for hiring were Mrs. Heidi Bentley of Denver as science teacher of eighth grades; Diane Ellison of Monterey, Central School second grade, and Carla Geraghty of Berkeley, to teach fifth grade at Bayside.

The name of jai-alai, the Spanish game, means "happy festival" in the Basque language.

ROK Students Stage New Outbursts

SEOUL, South Korea (UPI)—The Republic of Korea's National Assembly today formally accepted President Syngman Rhee's resignation and continued its government cleanup under the threat of new violence by more than 10,000 student demonstrators.

The students demonstrated in three cities for an immediate dissolution of Parliament. There were no bloody clashes like those last week that forced Rhee to quit, but troops had to fire tear gas into a crowd of 150 students here to disperse them.

Student crowds in Pusan grew to more than 10,000. It was Pusan's third straight day of demonstrations. Another 500 demonstrated in Taegu.

Methodists Approve Change In Church's Constitution

DENVER (UPI)—North-south tensions which have kept the Methodist General Conference in turmoil for a week eased today after an overwhelming vote approving an amendment to the church's constitution.

The amendment, approved late last night by a vote of 723 to 57, makes several slight modifications in the denomination's jurisdictional system.

The jurisdictional system was adopted 21 years ago when northern and southern branches of Methodism reunited after a century of division. It divides the denomination into six administrative jurisdictions, each with a large degree of autonomy in electing its own bishops and governing its affairs.

Five of the jurisdictions are based on geographical regions, and are composed predominantly of white churches. The sixth, called the central jurisdiction, is nationwide and is composed entirely of Negro churches.

The new constitutional amendment, which will require ratification by two-thirds of the church's 149 annual conferences, does not affect the racial partitioning of the church. Nor does it deprive the jurisdictions of any of their present powers.

Its main effects are (1) to permit the transfer of bishops across jurisdictional lines by mutual consent, and (2) to encourage the jurisdictions to hold their quadrennial meetings at the same time and place as the national general conference.

De Gaulle's Bay Area Visit Aided World Friendship

Now that President Charles de Gaulle of France has returned home, perhaps we might consider what results might be expected from his visit.

Out here on the West Coast we aren't in a good position to know the affects of his visit to Washington, New York, or New Orleans, or what will be the results of his talk with President Eisenhower. But perhaps we can better evaluate his San Francisco visit.

It was a hectic trip. Newsmen who accompanied him on the entire trip reported it was worse than the Nikita Khrushchev tour because it was so much faster. They also reported that nowhere did General de Gaulle find the sincere friendliness of his reception in San Francisco.

As one French newsman told us, everywhere else the reception was mechanical, like it had been turned on. But in the Bay Area the children sang and the people seemed to mean it when they bid him welcome. He was really impressed.

It was easy for even a native Californian to catch this feeling in the General's reception. And there was something about de Gaulle himself which helped bring it out.

We regret that his impression of Marin County might not be all that we would wish. His view included none of our cities or residential areas, except from the distance of a Coast Guard cutter. Closeup he did see the hills of Waldo Mountain and Mt. Tamalpais beyond. But the living area he viewed was Marin City, obviously in a state of rebirth, and the business area he inspected as he swished by was the crumbled remains of Marinship and the hodgepodge of growth which mushroomed there.

But Mother Nature came to Marin's rescue. He had a beautiful view of Sausalito from the water; Belvedere was green and beautiful, although Tiburon missed closer inspection when the trip through Raccoon Strait was canceled to save time.

Next time we hope the State Department will plan the routing of distinguished visitors to better present our county. Meanwhile we hope all speed will be made to make our entrance more impressive.

Nevertheless, General de Gaulle left the Bay Area with fond memories of this area.

Will this mean anything in international relations? Will his visit help him to understand us and we to understand him?

We think it will.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

GOD TRUSTS YOU

The word "trustee" has a meaningful origin. It is derived from the old Norse term, "traust," used a thousand years ago and meaning "confidence" or "security."

You often hear of trustees of a college, a charity, bank or various organizations. They are expected to show particular responsibility in protecting the rights of others and are held accountable for the manner in which they live up to the trust placed in them.

But how often do you think of yourself as a "trustee"? God has such confidence in you that He has actually put part of His divine power in your keeping.

But whether your talents be one or many, they are merely a loan and God expects you to use them as such for the benefit of others as well as for yourself.

If you live up to His divine trust, you will be a "trustee" in the best sense of the word.

"To whom much has been given, much will be required." (Luke 12:48)

Grant, O Holy Spirit, that I may always live up to the trust that You place in me.

Author O'Hara Refuses To Limit Output For Financial Reasons

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Because of high taxes and a fear of wearing out their welcome with the public, some major novelists now feel it pays to produce a book only every five years.

But author John O'Hara, with one novel now high on the best-seller list, has already completed another — and is planning a third which he feels will be the best of his life.

"I'm working harder than I ever did, and producing more ," he said. "I'm 55, and I want to write what's in me."

"I want to get it done, even though financially it's better to put one out every five years. The dough isn't the main consideration with me, and never has been," he said.

Although he once was one of the greatest literary playboys of his day, he always also was recognized as one of its most earnest craftsmen.

"I've been dry now for nearly seven years," remarked O'Hara, a big fellow who earlier was a quart-a-day athlete. He now fuels his creative efforts with 20 demitasses of coffee daily.

Despite a painful back ailment, he hammers four or five hours nightly at his typewriter. He is philosophical about the pain, which writing helps him forget.

"What the hell — I am 55," he said. "And all things considered, I'm pretty lucky as far as health is concerned. I've never had an operation."

Of his heyday as a playboy, O'Hara commented briefly: "The party was over when Bob Benchley died."

O'Hara and his second wife live quietly in a 10-room white brick home on a two and one-half acre plot about three miles from the Princeton University campus.

"I like my home, and I like my life now," he said.

O'Hara has probably the finest ear for American diction of any living writer. He trained it from youth in jobs ranging from soda clerk and steel mill laborer to newspaper reporter.

AS IN HIS newspaper days, he still likes to write in the late night or early morning hours.

"People aren't so likely to call you up and invite you out if you begin work after midnight," he explained.

O'Hara is ruggedly honest about his purpose and his goal.

"My goal is to depict life as straight as I can," he said. "It is to tell the truth. I don't want to change the world. I'd be a fool to try. I'm not going to campaign for good any more than I'm going to campaign for bad. If I set down life as I see it, with complete honesty, more good will come out of it than if I campaigned for anything."

HE FEELS the great dangers to creative writers are "procrastination, special pleadings, and going off on a political kick."

At the summit of his power he wants now only time to complete his picture of life as he has known it "before the big, big warning comes."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Fusselman Breaks One Of His Rules

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal;

This letter to you breaks a long time, self imposed, rule . . . that is to answer all cranky letters to the Editor with the proper indignation, immediately after reading the evening's paper, and then in the morning tear them up.

The cranky letter which appeared yesterday over the signature of a Lorin G. Gillette of Mill Valley is being answered for one reason only, and that is reference was made to a paid advertisement of mine, which appeared recently in the I-J. I have written and had published, many ads, from time to time, and have always been curious as to whether your readers would read small type. This, Lorin Gillette apparently did. So, in appreciation I am taking time out to answer.

First . . . I am not familiar with the name Lorin, therefore do not know whether this person is a gentleman or a lady. In either case he or she seems to be somewhat confused. He or she objects to my vote on the "Wright civic center," but goes on to say, "Whether Mr. Wright sold them a bill of goods or whether the majority of the board of supervisors were men and women of far vision cannot be decided at this moment. . . . If Mr. Fusselman has something to offer, let him speak, yes, LET HIM SPEAK."

I did, but he or she didn't like it. I expressed myself at some length, and in a positive way. Parenthetically, where there is a choice in making a decision and I am sincerely FOR one of the options, it follows, unless I am a yes man, which I am not, that I automatically I must be against the other.

I was FOR establishing the civic center on our present Court House site. Ample parking could be provided. I was equally in favor of purchasing the Military Academy property and establishing a civic center there. However, as the writer of the cranky letter is a self designated, "newcomer," he or she would not be aware of that and therefore jumped at conclusions.

This choice of mine goes back to 1952. It might be well, here, to say that I am FOR those things that experience has taught me are best for the people who must pay the bill. Thus, must be "against any number of things," if attempts are being made to force "a number of things," on the public, willy-nilly.

I offered a motion, at the time of Mr. Wright's death, that we be shown the plans to see just how far he had progressed, but could not receive a second. I was FOR protecting the public's interests. I also urged that we pay the Foundation only 8% instead of the 10% being paid while the Master was at the helm. So I voted "NO" on the 10% to the Foundation.

Speaking of "NO" votes, I suggest that he or she look over the record of voting. There is a surprise in store. I have voted "YES" so many more time than I have voted "NO" that it makes his or her comment, "I can't recall much he has been 'for,'" somewhat silly. Every member of the board has a record of being on the short end of the voting with a "NO." They have not all been reported in the news.

In his or her first paragraph this appears, "I have been interested the past couple of years in the antics of one William D. Fusselman as a member of the board of supervisors." In the dictionary we find this . . . "ANTIC —noun . . . 1) A prank, caper . . . 2) A clown, buffoon . . . 3) a grotesque figure."

Well, I am somewhat oversize and might appear to a cranky person as being grotesque. That, however, would put the writer of the cranky letter in a negative position, which I am sure would be distasteful. You know the old saying, "All the world loves a fat man." Seriously, there is no prank, no caper, no clowning, no buffoonery. I am deeply in earnest, when voting.

A few days ago you printed a letter from Bruce Gillette of Tamalpais Valley, in which he praised my positive position. Now comes one from Gillette of Mill Valley, who is very disturbed. It just goes to show that you can't please them all, even when the name is the same.

Fishermen Vs. Trained Airmen

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Fisherman vs. Air Force efficiency:

A small square of water and mud off Hamilton Field has all of a sudden become the best fishing ground in Northern California and the best boating area in California disregardless that most of the area is a mud flat at low tide.

1. I have personally trained some of our jet pilots in firearms and they do need extensive training in firearms for survival behind enemy lines (oh sure, this is peace time, but what about tomorrow?)

2. The Air Force Police, what about them? They are the men who protect these same jets so if needed they will get off the ground and go younder. Does the sportsman of the Bay Area realize that they are at present our defense against sneak attack? Do all of us realize that sabotage is a fact even now and that our air police must be trained to combat not only this but to become a tough fighting unit in time of war? To do this efficiently, they must have firearms training with all types of weapons and most of all a place to train.

When you stop and think of what our Air Force men stand ready to sacrifice for us, it seems very, very little to give up a very, very small area for fishing and boating so that we can have a more efficient Air Force at Hamilton.

You wonder if all this yelling about the firearms training is just all fishing and boating that wants our Air Force firearms training discontinued.

I may be wrong, but my understanding of the situation is that the U.S. Army Engineers have the responsibility of this safety factor involved. The apathy in which the matter has been handled by those responsible would, in my opinion, justify a Senate investigation to determine why the firearms training has been stopped since last December at an Air Force base of the importance of Hamilton Field.

I readily admit I know very little about bass fishing and boating on mud flats, but I do know the importance of military firearms training of all Air Force men, not only jet pilots and air police, but all of them.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Well, shiver my timbers if another of those wandering Martians hasn't popped up in town! This one landed in the lower East Side of Manhattan and came in with such a bump that his left front tire blew out. Across the street, however, he saw the well-stocked window of a delicatessen, and decided that the bagels hanging from a cord were just the right size for his left front wheel.

"Give me one of those tires in your window," he ordered the proprietor. "Those aren't tires," snapped the proprietor. "They're bagels."

"You've lost me," confessed the Martian.

"Bagels! Bagels!" repeated the proprietor. "You eat them. Like this." He stuffed a piece of bagel in the Martian's mouth. The Martian chewed thoughtfully for a moment, and then his face lit up.

"Say," he enthused. "You know what these would taste wonderful with? Lox and sour cream!"

Carmel Booth Swallows A Pill But It's Because Of Car Crash

San Anselmo Councilman Carmel H. Booth hastily swallowed a pill after she vigorously opposed William Franchini's nomination for mayor at last week's council meeting — but it wasn't because of the nomination. She explained shakily that her car had been struck in the rear by another auto just before the meeting.

The accident didn't daunt Mrs. Booth, however. During the evening, among other things, she charged that an effort to ease Victor Vallerga of San Anselmo Garbage Disposal out of his franchise with the city began at a party two months after Vallerga got his last contract. She named no names, but declared it was "one of the rottenest things I ever heard of."

IF YOU'RE hurt in an accident and some San Anselmo police officers happen along, consider yourself lucky. They really know their first aid.

Nine officers who received training in a Marin County Red Cross Class produced "the best test papers I ever saw," said instructor Virginia L. Hinshaw.

Miss Hinshaw is now instructing three more San Anselmo policemen and seven reservists in first aid, and will give an advanced course in May.

San Anselmo councilmen, whose verbal battles are well known, were cordially invited to join the first aid class.

CORTE MADERA Police Chief Frank Nelson will be mighty happy to have a new officer added to his four man force May 1. The town has more than 100 businesses in its three square miles, and one police officer on duty at night to make the rounds.

The police problem comes between sunset and sunrise. But Nelson can proudly point to a decrease in burglaries in the town.

Corte Madera has a small police force, but a vigilant one.

IN CASE you're not up on these things — chocolate vanilla and strawberry are "out" as ice cream flavors. People just don't ask for them much any more.

Instead, the jaded taste buds of today's youngster's, and grownups, too, demand the different or exotic — such as fresh peach, blueberry, or raspberry, burgundy or New York cherry, green mint fudge, English toffee.

That's the word from a man who should know: Albert "Bud" Fitzgerald, proprietor of Herbert's Sherbet Shoppe in the Corte Madera Shopping Center.

You can buy the old standbys of chocolate, vanilla and strawberry in his shop. But you won't find them on the list of flavors posted there.

There are 33 of those flavors, and the genial Fitzgerald eats three cones a day, so he can recommend the various tastes to his customers. He also consumes a daily chocolate malt and an occasional banana split.

Once someone asked for a flavor he didn't have — licorice — but he hopes to have it on hand next time he gets a request.

For the connoisseurs, Fitzgerald is careful to explain the difference between New York cherry (pink with maraschino cherries) and burgundy cherry (dark pink with bing cherries).

Youngsters, of course, are frequent visitors to the shop. They stand there, faces pressed against the glass, trying to decide which flavor they want Then they watch wide-eyed as Fitzgerald loads up a cone.

Me, I'll still take good old chocolate. Large size, please.

Your Legislators Want A 50% Raise In Pay

By JAMES C. ANDERSON

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — California legislators want a raise in pay.

They are going to their bosses — you, the voter — come Nov. 8 and ask for a 50 per cent increase in their pay checks.

Before you make up your minds on this deceivingly simple proposal, perhaps you better take a look at some of the facts and arguments.

TO BEGIN WITH, each of the 80 assemblymen and 40 state senators now receives $500 a month in salary, no matter whether the legislature is in session or in recess.

If the job of lawmaking were confined only to the days the legislature was in session, the pay wouldn't be bad. For example, in the last two years when each legislator picked up a total of $12,000 in pay, the legislature met for 160 days in 1959 and only 39 days in 1960.

However, many legislators argued that they work almost 24 hours at their jobs, 365 days a year. If they are not listening to complaints or suggestions from their constituents, they are busy running for reelection or attending an almost endless round of "must" events — club meetings, bridge dedications, parades, fairs, dinners and even funerals.

IN ADDITION to their salaries, however, the members of the legislature receive substantial expense money.

For every day the legislature is in session, they get $18 per diem which is supposed to cover their food and lodging while they are in the Capitol.

While they are attending committee meetings between sessions, they are entitled to $20 a day.

As for mileage, they get a fat 15-cents a mile to go to interim committee meetings.

All this can add up. For Assemblyman Richard T. Hanna (D-Garden Grove), collected more in mileage and per diems in 1959 than he made in salary and wound up with a grand total for the year of $12,714.

Hanna holds one of the most important jobs in the Assembly — chairman of the Rules Committee. This does entail more traveling than most members get since rules frequently meets during the months that the legislature is in recess.

Hanna concedes that 15-cents a mile is more than it actually costs him to fly or drive from Orange county to Sacramento. But he points out that when he is in his home district, making the rounds of his constituents, he gets not a cent.

HE FAVORS cutting the 15-cent figure down to the actual cost of travel — but he also feels that legislators should be compensated for legitimate travel costs within their own district.

Recently in Sacramento, a blue-ribbon citizens legislative advisory commission took up the question of endorsing the pay raise proposal.

Almost all of the citizens agreed that the legislators deserve a boost in pay. But many of them felt that before they get a 50 per cent pay raise, the lawmakers ought to do away with the "cushion" they get from the 15-cent-a-mile allowance.

The commission's final decision was to endorse the $9,000 proposal but urge the legislators as quickly as possible to scale down their expense allowances so they would receive only the actual cost of travel.

This might have been an idle gesture since a proposal went before the two houses in the last session to cut the mileage allowance to 10 cents. The measure passed the Assembly but failed in the Senate.

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

The Coliseum Is No Ball Park, But Giants Sure Are A Ball Club

CONNOLLY

As I was saying when my vacation interrupted, don't sell the S. F. Giants short. They can hardly miss winning the 1960 National League pennant.

And be sure of one thing. If the L. A. Dodgers are champions you can bet the NEW champions will be the Giants.

I say this after seeing the games last week in L. A. After that series only a catastrophe can keep the Giants from being the most sensational team in the National League.

Nobody in his right mind and with the use of his optics or peepers, can say the Dodgers' Coliseum field is a ball park. It is a combination of rodeo arena, football field, track oval or a windswept alley with a Chinese wall around it.

The grass is slippery and wet, the lights are phoney as a three dollar bill, the playing field is anything but what it should be. All I can say for the Coliseum is that it is a suckers' paradise.

WHY ANY BASEBALL fan should want to see a ball game at the Coliseum, is beyond me. The cold night air and the sweeping wind there are worse by far than anything in the old Seals Stadium. And heaven knows that was bad enough. Not even Candlestick Park in its wickedest moments can equal the Coliseum.

I'd say the reason the Giants didn't take all three games from the Dodgers in the recent series is because of the Coliseum park. It isn't a ball park and it isn't any place where a ball club could be expected to play like a ball club.

AND INCIDENTALLY don't let anybody tell you that Walter O'Malley, the L.A. Dodgers owner, is in a hurry to get out of the Coliseum and into Chavez Ravine. The way the turnstiles click, he'd be a chump to hasten any move outta his present set-up.

Aside from the playing conditions at the Coliseum, the S. F. Giants are a better ball club than the Dodgers.

THE REAL TEST of a team is its power. The S. F. Giants have it in abundance. You don't have to be a Giant rooter to know it—just go out there and before long you'll feel it inside.

Willie Mays, Willie McCovey, Orlando Cepeda, Willie Kirkland, Jimmy Davenport—that is a poker hand to draw to . . . they just instill you with confidence. And don't sell Eddie Bressoud short either. He comes up with the derndest clouts you've ever seen and in the clinches too.

THE GIANTS SEEM to be a ball club that has IT. They play stupidly at times, and they disappoint you in the clutch, sometimes, but they surprise you so often that you've got to go along with them.

I met an oldtimer at the Wild Horse Ranch in Tucson, who for 30 years followed the Giants. He told me he liked the color of the club and thought they'd go a long ways.

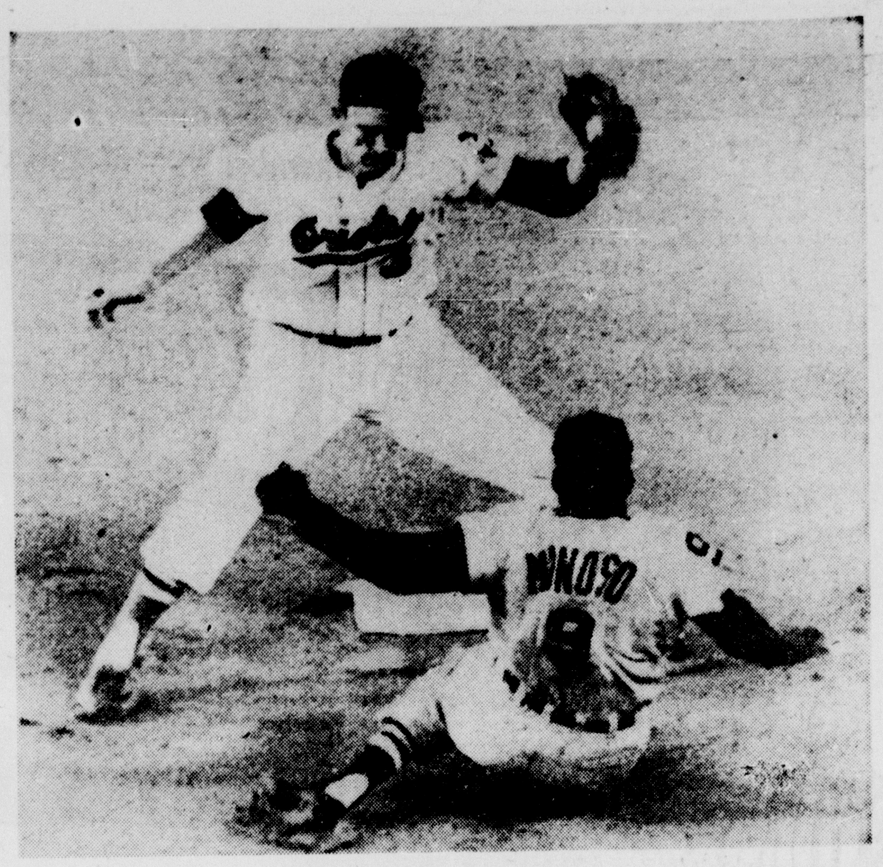

"I'd say before the 1960 season is over, you'll write that the S. F. Giants are the most colorful ball club in your time," said my fran.

HE LIKED McCOVEY for his power. He adored Cepeda for his strength and he loved Willie Mays because he thought he was the greatest outfielder since Ty Cobb.

And the guy I mention is none other than Walter Trumbull, the "Listening Post" of the New York Times, who for 30 years wrote the most interesting column in sports.

"YOU GOT TO LIKE the Giants," he said, "because they are colorful, powerful and inspiring. They'll win the 1960 pennant in the National League."

I second the motion.

McCormick Handcuffs Braves On Four-Hitter

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — This could be the big dividend year for the $50,000 bonus that Giants president Horace Stoneham shelled out for Mike McCormick back in 1956.

Now in his fifth major league campaign despite being just 21, the poised left-hander sports a record of three victories against no losses, including two shutouts. Last year he was 12-16.

Mike blanked the Milwaukee Braves on four singles last night before a throng of 41,943 jamming Candlestick Park as San Francisco took a 5-0 triumph and moved to within one game of National League leading Pittsburgh.

Even that was more hits than he'd given up in his other two victories. He whitewashed the Los Angeles Dodgers 1-0 on two hits and beat St. Louis 6-1 on three hits.

"I've felt very good so far," says the mature young hurler. "I think I added weight to my shoulders and chest during the past winter, although over-all I didn't get heavier."

The 6-foot-2 pitcher who tips the scales between 185 and 190, used his fast ball as the principal weapon in shooting down the Braves.

Only seven balls went out of the infield as the box score showed 18 assists for the Giants infielders.

"I had real good support out there," Mike declared.

Second baseman Don Blasingame came up with a great stop and throw behind the bag in the first inning to nail Red Schoendienst. Shortstop Eddie Bressoud pulled off a pair of brilliant catches.

In the eighth, substitute right fielder Felipe Alou made a diving catch to rob Schoendienst again. And Willie Mays went far back to haul down a Hank Aaron drive in center field in the ninth.

Aaron's only hit for the evening was a bunt single to lead off the second.

There was plenty of good news for the Giants. Jimmy Davenport returned to action for the first time since being hit by a pitched ball last Tuesday. He lined a sixth inning home run into the left field bleachers to give McCormick a 1-0 lead over his pitching rival, Carl Willey.

Catcher Hobie Landrith started his first game since suffering a broken bone in his hand during spring training and reported it felt fine. Landrith collected a single and two walks and knocked in a run with a squeeze bunt.

That came in the eighth when the Giants scored four runs at the expense of relievers Don McMahon and Ken Mackenzie, a rookie seeing his first major league action.

Also the Giants learned that left fielder Orlando Cepeda, beaned on a play at second base in Los Angeles last Thursday, probably would be ready for action against the Braves today.

Milwaukee Manager Chuck Dressen nominated ace left-hander Warren Spahn to face the Giants' Jack Sanford in today's finale of the two-game set. Dressen originally had scheduled Spahn last night but figured he might get some hitting help from the veteran against a righthanded hurler.

The eighth was a bad frame for the Braves. Davenport led off with a single and Mays walked. Both advanced on a passed ball charged to catcher Del Crandall.

Then Willie McCovey walked to fill the bases. In came Mackenzie. Joe Amalfitano blasted an infield single scoring one run. Another came across when shortstop Johnny Logan uncorked a wild throw. McCovey scored on a second passed ball with Amalfitano reaching third. He tallied on Landrith's hunt.

Mays kept his batting streak alive with a fourth inning single and now has hit safely in all 16 games of this campaign. McCovey continued powering in the extra base department with a double to his credit, his fifth of the year.

Giants Gain Ground As Pirates Lose

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The San Francisco Giants are within one game of the National League leading Pittsburgh Pirates again — and a winter trade has come back to haunt the Bucs.

Ronnie Kline, the right-hander Pittsburgh swapped to St. Louis, junked the Pirate winning streak at nine games last night, pitching a seven-hitter as the Cardinals made off with a 4-3 victory on a bases-loaded walk in the ninth.

Cincinnati tripped Los Angeles to fifth, a half game behind St. Louis, by beating the Dodgers 6-5 on five unearned runs and Ed Bailey's three-run double. The Chicago Cubs defeated Philadelphia 8-7 with a three-run ninth capped by Don Zimmer's two-out single.

In the American League, Cleveland made it five in a row with a 3-2 victory at Washington for a first-place tie with the Chicago White Sox, who were whipped 11-6 at Baltimore in the only other game.

Elroy Face, the right-hander who built a relief record of 22 consecutive victories by winning his first 17 last season, was tagged with an 0-2 mark by the Cardinals. He walked pinch-hitter Carl Sawatski following Stan Musial's single Daryl Spencer's fourth hit, a double, and an intentional walk to Leon Wagner that loaded the bases. Face took over from starter Harvey Haddix in a two-run seventh — giving up a pinch-single by George Crowe that tied it.

Kline, traded for outfielder Gino Cimoli, was touched for two runs in the second and a solo homer by Smoky Burgess that gave the Bucs a 3-0 lead in the fourth. He breezed the rest of the way for his first complete game and first decision in three starts as a Card.

The Reds, whose only earned run was Billy Martin's first National League homer, a solo shot for a 3-3 tie in the seventh, got their winning three in the eighth after Vada Pinson's leadoff single and the game's second error by Dodger second baseman Charlie Neal. Loser Roger Craig (1-1) injured his pitching shoulder in a rundown collision with Pinson, and left after lobbing three balls to Lee Walls. Reliever Larry Sherry finished the intentional walk, struck out Roy McMillan and then gave up Bailey's sliced double off the left field screen.

Technicality May Upset Jump Record

NEW YORK (AP)—An unexpected snarl developed today in John Thomas' world high jump record of 7 feet, 1½ inches. It came from an unexpected source—the compositon of the take-off.

"When we submit the record for approval by the International Amateur Athletic Federation, we'll call attention to the fact that the jump was made from an asphalt composition takeoff," said Pinky Sober, chairman of the AAU track and field committee.

Thomas made his record on his first try last Saturday at the Penn Relays in Philadelphia.

OBJECTION

The composition takeoff was the same one the Soviets objected to in their meet with the United States last summer. Later, when a rainstorm practically inundated the field, they used it and pronounced it satisfactory.

"I'm certain the AAU will approve Thomas' record for an American mark," said Sober. My personal opinion is that the IAAF will accept it, but of course, I can't speak for that organization."

The IAAF rules state that the surface from which the takeoff is made be capable of taking normal spikes.

WHAT'S 'NORMAL?'

"That's where the complication could come in," Sober continued. "What are normal spikes? Thomas actually was using the indoor, needle-type spikes on his jump because that surface won't take the longer, outdoor-type spikes."

If the IAAF does not accept the new-type of takeoff, U.S. athletes — and especially the high jumpers like Thomas and Charlie Dumas — will be in trouble. Most of the takeoffs in this country now are made of the composition material.

Fighter Beat Johansson— Long Time Ago

NEW YORK (AP)—Bjarne Lingaas, a Norwegian carpenter who now lives in Brooklyn, gasped today when he heard the name of Ingemar Johansson.

"Yes," he admitted in a low voice, "I beat Ingo when we both were amateurs in Oslo in 1952.

"But I'd hate to let Ingo know I said so. He might not like it."

Lingaas made his professional debut last night at St. Nicholas Arena by decisively outpointing Al Thomas, a last-minute substitute, in a preliminary four-rounder.

"I know I waited a long time before turning professional," said Lingaas. "But one thing I want understood. I didn't become a pro because I beat Johansson. That has absolutely nothing to do with it."

Lingaas said he won a three-rounder from Johansson eight years ago when both were getting ready for the Olympics.

Lingaas said he hadn't fought in two years and was rusty from inactivity. But he hopes to get a six-rounder in Madison Square Garden on May 20.

HELMET GETS INTO BIGTIME

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Outfielder Jim Lemon of the Washington Senators is the first major leaguer to wear a Little League helmet.

Lemon, a 6-foot, 5-inch slugger, tested the helmet last night and had two hits in three tries as the senators were defeated by the Cleveland Indians, 3-2.

The Little League helmet has flaps that cover the ears and protect a larger area of the head than the standard helmets.

Palmer, Collins In Playoff In Houston Golf Tourney

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — Masters champion Arnold Palmer and big Bill Collins were both a little weary today as they met in an 18-hole playoff to decide the winner of the $35,000 Houston Classic Golf Tournament.

Palmer and Collins wound up the fourth round of the tourney the same way they ended the first round—in a deadlock. They began last Thursday by burning up the 7,122-yard Memorial Park course with six-under par 66's.

But the strain of competition was beginning to tell yesterday in what was to have been the final round. Collins, of Crystal River, Fla., shot a three-over-par 75 and Palmer, who plays out of Ligonier, Pa., carded a 73, one over par.

For each it was the worst round of the tourney, and each ended the regulation distance with 280s for the 72 holes.

Today's playoff will decide who gets the coveted trophy and first prize money of $5,300. The playoff loser will get $3,400.

When the deadlock for first place was announced, both Palmer and Collins agreed there was too much at stake for a sudden death playoff, but they left it up to tourney officials.

Jack Fleck, who won the Phoenix Open from Collins in a playoff earlier this year, wound up yesterday with a 72

First International Soccer Contest In S.F. Tomorrow

San Francisco's first all-international soccer game is on tap for tomorrow at Balboa Stadium at 6:30 p.m., and matches the touring Munich of Germany and Westminster Royals of Canada teams in the twilight tilt.

The twilight game, matching two outstanding international teams, is an important experiment for the San Francisco Soccer Association, and it is hoped a good turnout will make the game a success. Usually one international team plays a local all-star aggregation, and tomorrow's game marks the first time that two international soccer teams have met in San Francisco.

The Munich team comes to San Francisco with an excellent record in German soccer standings. Coached by 48-year-old Hans Hipp, the team is one of the outstanding clubs in southern Germany—always at or near the top in league standings. Hipp has 23 years of soccer coaching experience, and his clubs always provide exciting and thrilling soccer competition.

Westminster, meanwhile possesses an equally outstanding record, and is rated a top team in Canadian soccer circles. They have won the coveted Canadian Challenge Cup seven times, more than any other team.

Tickets are priced at $3.50 for reserved seats, and $2.50 for general admission.

BOWLING

Zeno Gelatti was in the groove, as usual, Friday night in Greenbrae's Major Scratch Trio League.

The veteran Marin champion blasted an 891 series for four games, including 219, 210, 236 and 226.

Willie Corda hit for 855 on lines of 184, 213, 223 and 234. Dick Treadway joined the high scoring binge with an 849 total on 201, 205, 211 and 232 and Chico Valsecchi posted an 841. He slammed a 255, dropped off to 181 and 159, but came right back with a final 256.

The women also turned in some nifty performances in the Friday Classic Trio League. Jean Taylor had a 230 game in her 554 series while Lil Scotto scored a 509 total.

Injured Fighter Recovering After Brain Operation

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Leroy Sayes, middleweight fighter injured April 25 in his second pro fight, today was reported making progress after a brain operation on Sunday.

The 22-year-old Berkeley boxer was knocked out in the second round by Floyd Ryan, who was also fighting his second pro bout.

Dr. Don Lastretto, state athletic Commission doctor, said Dr. Robert Palmer, a neurosurgeon, performed the operation at St. Lukes to remove a blood clot.

Dr. Lastretto said Sayles barring any setback, would be hospitalized a week or 10 days.

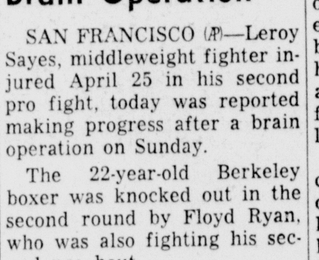

His expenses-operation as well as hospitalization—are taken care of by the California Boxers' and Wrestlers' Fund. Each participant contributes one per cent of his purse to the fund. Promoters also contribute.

The earliest cigarette-making machine was patented in the 1870s.

State To Have 5-Fish Limit Eventually

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Another trout season is underway and, fortunately for the Department of Fish and Game (for a change), little or no controversy surrounded the recent opening.

This is the first year that the whole state is operating on a straight 10-trout limit. However, most of the fireworks on that took place last fall and winter when the seasons and limits were being set by the Fish and Game Commission.

Actually, the handwriting has been on the wall for some time, as far as trout are concerned. Warnings that the old 15-trout limit would have to go were sounded years ago. The first serious attempt was made in 1956. After a two-year breather, it was tried again.

The first major change came in 1959, when all but 11 counties were reduced to 10 fish. Late in 1959, when the 1960 regulations were set, the whole state went on the 10 fish limit.

No one knows just how long it will be before the action starts toward a five-fish limit. Experts, including the $100,000 report of the Booz, Allen & Hamilton firm, say the five-fish limit must come eventually.

Before this happens, however, it's expected there will be some other changes in the trout fishing regulations. The Fish and Game Commission already made a start in adopting a new trout policy earlier this year. Under the policy, production of catchable trout is geared to stamp sales and the catchables are to be planted in the most accessible waters.

The future of the catchable trout program largely will depend on economics, now that the Commission had adopted a policy which puts some balance in the program. The more stamps that are sold—the more trout can be raised in the hatchery.

Before the five-trout limit comes into reality, there also will be some other changes, it would appear. A program of bonus limits on certain high elevation species probably will be instituted. (This should have been done a long time ago but has bogged down over fears of enforcement problems).

The youngsters may be charged for licenses or, if they don't have to buy licenses, the limit for youthful non-licenseholders may be droped below that of bona fide license buyers. This would be a step toward stopping the practice of meat-hungry fathers who catch limits of freshly-planted fish for all the family.

In the years to come, there may be further bait restrictions. The Commission voted several years ago to outlaw use of meat for bait. There was, and still is, agitation to outlaw use of cheese or dairy products for bait.

BUFFALO BOUT
Scanlon Fights For N.Y. Title Tonight

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI)—Irish Bobby Scanlon and Jackie Donnelly, two Buffalo-born lightweights, may draw the biggest fight crowd here in 10 years when they clash tonight.

The two battlers meet in Memorial Auditorium in a 12-round bout for the New York State lightweight crown. Scanlon now fights out of Nicasio, Marin County, Calif., under the management of Nick Kobseff and Lou Sabella. He is trained by former world middleweight champion Fred Apostoli.

Scanlon, making his first ring appearance here in four years, has a 34-5-1 record. His victims include former lightweight champion Bud Smith, Joey Lopes and Gale Kerwin. He was beaten in his last fight by Johnny Gonsalves in Oakland.

Donnelly is unbeaten in 21 bouts with one draw and received national attention last February with a convincing win over Orlando Zulueta.

A big turnout for the bout could make Buffalo an important fight center again. The largest crowd in the past decade was the 6,950 who attended the Paul Andrews-Jimmy Slade lightweight bout in 1955.

Matchmaker Jack Barrett expects to pit Paolo Rosi or Carlos Ortis, the junior welterweight champion, against the winner of tonight's bout.

Title Fight In S.F. Slated For July 6

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Flash Elorde of the Philippines will defend his world junior lightweight title against Harold Games of Providence in San Francisco July 6, matchmaker Bennie Ford announced yesterday.

Ford said the fight will be held in the Civic Auditorium and would be televised nationally, with a regional blackout.

Elorde knocked out Gomes in the seventh round two months ago in Manila to win the crown.

Chessman Execution Stirs Anger

Foreign Press Is Critical; Mobs Besiege Embassies

By UP INTERNATIONAL

United States embassies were mobbed, picketed or badgered with false threats and United States law was assailed as "cruel" and "inhuman" in a wave of foreign criticism of the execution of Caryl Chessman.

The death of the sex-kidnaper was headline news around the world, largely as a result of the wide circulation of books he wrote on Death Row.

In Rome, a French-born American named John Laurent said he and his wife were giving up their U.S. citizenship in protest against the execution.

In Copenhagen, a telephone tipster told a newspaper a bomb had been planted in the U.S. embassy. The building was searched, but no bomb was found.

The Swedish tabloid Expressen, Scandinavia's biggest newspaper, called the execution "legalized murder by the State of California."

England's Manchester Guardian called the execution an "outrage," and former Appeals Judge Lord Birkett said it seemed "rather cruel" to take Chessman's life after so long a time.

Protests were inspired in some measure by opposition to capital punishment, but for the most part what horrified foreigners was the judicial delay that kept Chessman in the shadow of death for 12 years.

A stone-throwing mob broke several windows in the U.S. embassy library in Lisbon, Portugal, yesterday. Mobs besieged other embassies at points as far separated as Stockholm, Sweden, and Montevideo, Uruguay.

The mobs in Montevideo picketed not only the embassy offices but the ambassador's residence, shouting "murderers!" and "assassins!"

(Chessman's final stay of execution was the result of a State Department report to California's Gov. Edmund G. Brown that Uruguayan opposition to the execution might erupt into anti-Eisenhower riots if the kidnaper were killed before the President visited that country.)

In Milan, an enraged Italian telephoned the UPI bureau to bellow:

"Shame on the United States! I will spit in the face of the next American tourist I meet in the streets! Barbarians!"

No official comment was forthcoming from Free World governments, but the execution was widely criticized by private citizens. Only a handful of persons recalled the shocking nature of his crimes.

Among these was London newspaper columnist John Jelley, who said Chessman died "for the horrible obsessions of his infancy."

"Let us brush the sentimental bouquets aside. . ." Jelley said in his Daily Mail column. "His crimes were hideous."

London's Laborite Daily Herald said yesterday was a "day of shame," and the conservative Daily Telegraph commented that Chessman had been treated like a "human yo-yo. . . . There must be in the hearts of most honest-to-goodness Americans a great shame over the execution."

The Liberal News Chronicle said "simple revulsion is the natural reaction. . . but it is well to remind ourselves that the final agonizing twists are implicit in capital punishment as a whole and not only in a sensational case far off in California."

A Finnish prosecutor called the execution "completely inhuman," and a Swiss attorney said it was "unworthy of a constitutional state."

French novelist-biographer Andre Maurois said the execution was "very unfortunate" because there was some question about Chessman's guilt, and in any case he "was not the man he was 12 years ago."

BODY LEAVES PRISON—A hearse containing the body of Caryl Chessman, executed yesterday at San Quentin Prison, is shown leaving the prison grounds yesterday en route to the Harry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael. The body was cremated today at Mt. Tamalpais Cemetery in San Rafael.

Chessman's Plea: Keep Up The Fight

In statements released after his execution yesterday, Caryl Chessman urged a continued battle against capital punishment.

Chessman died in the San Quentin Prison gas chamber for kidnap-robbery-sexual assault crimes he was convicted of but which he denied committing.

His statements were made to San Francisco Examiner reporter Will Stevens and managing editor George Flowers of the Long Beach Independent. The statements were copyrighted by the newspapers.

To Stevens, the 38-year-old convict-author said: "I did want to live. I believed passionately that I could make a meaningful contribution to both literature and my society with my writings . . .

"I must believe and I do believe that before too many years have passed we will realize the senseless tragedy and the witless futility of that relic of human barbarism, capital punishment, and that we have the courage and the vision to eliminate it . . ."

Hayden Addresses Students At Ross

Actor-seaman Sterling Hayden was guest speaker yesterday at an eighth grade assembly at Ross School.

Mrs. Mary Lou Edward, eighth grade teacher, said his lecture to an audience of sixth, seventh and eighth graders was a warm account of his and his children's travels."

Hayden also showed films of various voyages.

Death Penalty Foes Plan New Gas Chamber Fight

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A wisp of martyrdom today threatened to eliminate the gas chamber that killed Caryl Chessman.

The infamous "red light" bandit himself said months ago that his death would do more towards ending the death penalty in California than to remain living.

Yesterday, just before he walked the 13 steps into the eight-sided gas chamber, he told a prison official "I hope my going into the chamber will help blow the room right out of existence."

No sooner had the shock of Chessman's convulsive death begun than state legislators renewed their demands to end capital punishment. One said he would introduce the issue again in the 1961 session of the Legislature.

George Davis, one of Chessman's attorneys, said he planned to devote most of his time to get the issue directly before the voters by the initiative process.

"I think this has taken the wraps off the fight for abolition of capital punishment," he said. "We will be joined by a lot of people who did not want to be counted because of Chessman.

"People have been afraid to get into the fight because so many were propagandized into thinking Chessman was an ogre. They feared political reprisals and social ostracism, especially in Southern California," Davis said.

Deputy Secretary of State Walter Stutler said Davis and an anti-death penalty group named "People Against Capital Punishment Inc." had until June 30 to get 420,462 signatures on petitions to place the issue on the November general election ballot.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown issued a formal statement after Chessman's execution reasserting his personal opposition to the death penalty:

"I regret equally every execution in California, past and future, including the one today. My personal opposition to capital punishment remains as profound as ever.

"I continue to hope that the people of California will change the law. Until they do, however, I must continue to uphold the laws and the provisions of the Constitution with all the strength at my command."

The governor probably will lead the fight in the 1961 Legislature to abolish the death penalty.

Brown tried last February to get the Legislature to do away with the apple green lethal gas chamber at San Quentin, but the Senate Judiciary Committee voted 8-7 ot retain the death penalty.

Attorney General Stanley Mosk said Chessman's death "should give impetus to demands that the law be changed."

"A civilized society cannot tolerate the ritual of death as a method of punishment," he said.

Graham Decries Execution Of Caryl Chessman

CHICAGO (UPI) — Evangelist Billy Graham said yesterday Caryl Chessman should not have been executed because he "had suffered enough and paid for his crimes several times."

Graham said he favored capital punishment for "men like Hitler . . . and the terrible mad men of history."

But in Chessman's case, Graham said, "If I had the authority, I probably would have commuted his sentence."

'Magic Carpet' Sale Slated May 12-16

So pleased were Mill Valley Episcopal Churchwomen with the "Magic Carpet" theme for their last year's salvage sale—suggested by five-year-old George R. Brockmann III—that they have decided to use it again this year, according to Mrs. Martin Gordon, ways and means chairman.

The sale is calendered this year for May 12-16 at the Church of Our Saviour, Lovell and Old Mill aveuues, during the hours of 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. On the final day of the sale a clearance will be conducted until 9 p.m.

Perhaps even more appropriate this year is theme, which was selected in this manner. When little George wanted a magic carpet and was told by his mother, Mrs. George Brockman Jr. that she didn't know where to get one. He said "Just tell Grandma. She can get anything at the rummage sale."

This year Grandma, Mrs. George Brockman Sr. is co-chairman for the sale with Mrs. H. E. Houchard.

The co-chairmen report that already donated are many beautiful lamps, furniture, dishes, books, jewelry and men's women's and children's clothing.

Under the direction of Mrs. D. W. Dunn a plant booth will have wish garden and patio accessories as well as plants.

Installation Of Business Women Held

Principal speaker at the installation dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Marin County recently at Rickey's Rancho Rafael was Helen Putnam of Petaluma, immediate past president of the California School Boards Assn. In her talk on Career Advancement, she emphasized the point that whatever education is gained in any field is an asset and that while it may be dormant for years it can be utilized later in life.

Mrs. Putnam stated that estimates of present statistics show that in the next decade one out of every three working people will be a woman and she emphasized the fact that every woman should learn to be a good homemaker as well as advancing her career.

Installed were Helen Krause, president; Elsie Mazzini, first vice president; Katheryn Keaton, second vice president; Bette Wentworth, recording secretary; Viola Gottschalk, corresponding secretary, and Katherine Raudio, treasurer.

Entertainment included songs by Harriet Nelson, accompanied on the piano by Anita Meyer and selections by piano pupils of Viola Gottschalk and Luciel Zenter. Pupils were Hilary Winkler, Bonnie Hoag and Carol Spicer.

Mrs. Lloyd Stark Chosen To Head Sparks Auxiliary

Mrs. Lloyd Stark was elected president of the Sparks, ladies auxiliary to the Southern Marin Recreation Center at the annual luncheon meeting held Wednesday at the Center. She will succeed Mrs. Milton Levitan, who was first president of the group which was organized just one year ago.

Other officers will be Mrs. Alan Cundall, vice president and program chairman; Mrs. Kelly Wheeler, secretary, and Mrs. Arno Rayner, treasurer.

Retiring board members presented annual reports. Outstanding among the year's achievements was the acquisition of plans for poolside enrichment. Volunteer labor has been responsible for building part of the plans, such as the windbreak, and much of the planting. Money from the Spark treasury has purchased many of the plants required by the blueprints, according to Mrs. Stark, gardening chairman.

The group has also presented monthly luncheons which have proved popular. They will be continued. Mrs. Dan S. Williams has been the luncheon chairman for the past year.

Mrs. Joseph Keller, hospitality chairman, reported her committee had presented two dinners at the Center. She also reported that new women members of the Center were invited as guests to the monthly luncheon following their joining.

Under the direction of Mrs. Stanley Peterson, painting chairman, the life guard stations have been painted and a first coat has been given to the lockers.

To demonstrate the activity for which she was responsible, Mrs. John Jansheski presented a fashion show of clothing from the Salvage Shop. It is the Sparks responsibility to staff the shop every fifth week as the Center is a participating member in the shop.

Particularly outstanding was a green full-skirted cotton modeled by Mrs. Phillip West and a black taffeta evening dress accented with a huge rhinestone clip worn by Mrs. Gerald Frellson.

Mrs. Robert Trieber wore several stunning short outfits. One had white bermudas set off with a black and white tweed top decorated with appliques of red roosters.

Mrs. Stark modeled a dress and coat ensemble in raw silk. The coat was fully lined with the dress material and featured a row of oversize buttons down the back.

A royal blue satin evening dress with bell sleeves was also outstanding. This was worn by Mrs. William Moschetti and Mrs. Pickett showed a royal purple velvet sheath with jacket. Mrs. Jack Wedereit wore a becoming pongee print strapless summer dress.

A gift was presented to Mrs. Levitan by retiring vice president Mrs. John Del Mar and the group presented a gift to Mrs. Helen Issel, manager of the Center, for her efforts on behalf of the Sparks.

Ira Blue To Be Commentator At Sisterhood Party, May 14

The tables are turned, the spotlight is on the men, and a switch in the usual format of fashion showings will be presented by the Sisterhood of the Marin Jewish Community Center, Saturday evening, May 14.

Ira Blue, television sports announcer, will offer his humorous commentary—this time not on sports, but sportswear and how the well dressed spectator should appear.

A leading California winery will sponsor the cocktail hour (7 to 9 p.m.) featuring a complete selection of fine wines and champagnes to whet the palate and set the mood for the dapper sauntering of model husbands as they take their stance in the fashion world.

The casual elegance of men's sportswear, ranging from beach attire to on-the-town ensembles have been selected from an apparel shop in Corte Madera. Chosen as the beau brummels of the evening are Messrs Morton Colvin, Howard Gerstein, Evan Goldenberg, Sam Kramer, Fred Pill, David Rovens, Al Silver, Robert Tobias, and Richard Wagner.

The flavor of the wine valley will be created by the use of Chianti bottles, grape vines, and barrels, accented by the age-old twosome of candlelight and wine. In charge of decorations are Mesdames Bernard Blumenthal, Gerald Hill, David Rovens. Other committees include tickets, Mesdames Fred White, Joe Glicksberg, Evan Goldenberg and Gordon Blumenfeld; hors d'oeuvres, Mrs. Paul DeMoss and Paul Levinson.

Proceeds of the event will benefit the Center's Day Camp program and will sponsor needy Marin children to the summer session.

The public is invited.

Girl Scouts Take Tour Of Presidio

From Northern Marin to the Golden Gate, Girl Scouts are giving service, learning about our historic landmarks, and finding enjoyment in nature and the out-of-doors.

A tour of the Presidio in San Francisco was the highlight of spring vacation for some of the members of Terra Linda Intermediate Scout Troop 231. With Specialist 3C H. Coats of the Community Relations Division of the Sixth Army Information Section as their guide, they visited the parachute department, old Ft. Point, the base chapel, stood Retreat and dined in the mess hall. All seventh graders at the Vallecito School, the girls also made diapers and baby kimonas for the Needlework Guild of America as their service project for April. Their leaders are Mrs. Robert Huck and Mrs. Wiley McCollister.

Larkspur Intermediate Scouts in Troop 148 were invited to take part in the first installation of officers of the newly formed P-TA at the Henry C. Hall School. All fifth graders in the new school, Gail Fowler, Cristine Gondak, Peggy Mitchell and Lynn Sloan presented the Colors, with Julie Easter as caller.

A Plant Fair will be held on May 7 by Intermediate Scout Troop 309 at Brice Brothers Store in Novato. The 31 troop members started planning the event last fall, and have been raising the plants since then.

MEMBERS OF the two County branches of the American Association of University Women chatted with national president, Dr. Anna L. Rose Hawkes, at recent luncheon in her honor. From left are the Mesdames William F. Dresia and Hugh G. Marchant, members of the Marin branch, Dr. Hawkes, and Mesdames Warren A. Staiger and Joseph C. Brewster from Mill Valley Branch. Both Mesdames Dresia and Staiger are Mills College alumnae, where Dr. Hawkes was dean from 1945 to 1955 (Shimmon photo)

Market Day To Be Colorful With Red, White Costumes

Fresh produce and poultry, cheese and eggs becomingly arranged in red and white booths will be offered for sale by costumed volunteers at the sixth annual Market Day to be sponsored by the Northgate Group at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross, May 18.

Mrs. Mert Hipsley and Mrs. Ben Morden, both of Ross, are chairmen of the dairy maids who will be in charge of the chickens, jumbo eggs and cheeses, and of the farm hands who will staff the produce stall with its asparagus, artichokes, lettuce, bananas, strawberries and pineapples.

A committee of Northgate Group members, dressed in red and white pinafores, wearing red and white bonnets, will be on hand from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. in attractive red and white checked booths offering their wares to the public.

The Silver Dollar luncheon, which was such a special success at last year's event, will be repeated with "Harvey Girls," 1960 version, serving the guests.

Mrs. Frank Brown of San Anselmo, with Mrs. A. E. Wilson of Ross as her consultant, will be in charge of the luncheon committee. Dressed in duplicates of the colorful costumes, including big white hair bows seen by travelers some years ago in Harvey House restaurants along the route of the Santa Fe Railroad, will be the following "waitresses":

Mesdames William Cuneo, J. C. Peters, Frederick Macondray, John Gilman, Arthur Feidler, Melvin J. Duncan, James S. Goodale, and Mrs. Jay Hale, who will be cashier of the hard money.

Market Day is open to the public. Other appropriate booths will offer gifts, homemade cakes and pies, a silent auction, white elephants, and books and records.

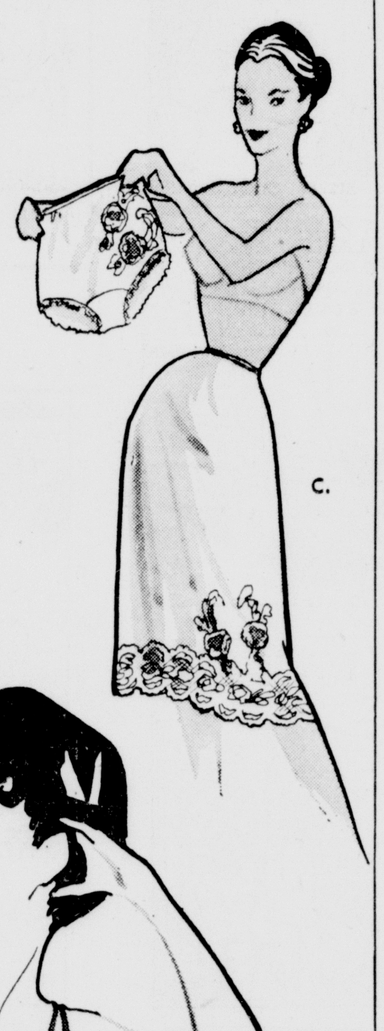

Mrs. Don Perry of Kentfield is chairman of the 1960 Market Day.

All funds derived from sales go toward the maintenance of the Marin Art and Garden Center, a non-profit cultural organization.

Hall School Dedicated By Son Of Namesake

Larkspur's newest educational plant, the Henry C. Hall School, was dedicated Saturday afternoon by the son of the man for whom the school is named.

In his dedicatory speech, Dr. Henry C. Hall Jr., professor of education at University of San Francisco, cited his own early days in Larkspur's rural, five-room schoolhouse of half a century ago in noting the progress made by education in general and the Larkspur School District in particular.

He concluded by presenting a picture of his father, to be displayed in the hall of the new school, to Principal Mervin Gootherts.

Presenting a key to the new school to William (Buzz) Thiercof, president of the Henry C. Hall Student Council, was M. K. Taylor, member of the Larkspur School District board of trustees. "We are not giving you this key with no strings attached," Taylor told the student leader. "You must earn it by fulfilling your duty to yourself, your parents, your school, your country and your God by working toward the best education you can achieve."

Young Thiercof in turn presented the key to Gootherts, saying, "The key really belongs to those who give us the education."

Welcoming and introducing the guests—among whom were three other members of the Hall family, Mrs. Mercy Hall Brevig, George W. Hall and George W. Hall Jr.—was Supt. Vaughn D. Seidel.

Jack Mengel, district trustee and chairman of the committee for passage of the bonds which made the school possible, reviewed the growth of the district to its present 1,700 pupils housed in three schools and cited the need for more schools soon.

"It is to the professional skill of the teachers and the love and guidance of the parents to whom we dedicate this school," Mengel said.

Entertaining the guests was the district band under direction of Mrs. Marjorie Whittelsey.

The invocation and benediction were offered by Rev. James J. Healey of St. Patrick's Church and Rev. Wayne Hansen, pastor of Edwoods Presbyterian Church.

Grease Flares Up At Tiburon Eatery

An overheated five-gallon grease container on a stove at the Caprice restaurant on Tiburon's Main street sent 23 firemen and three pieces of equipment out at 10:15 a.m. Sunday.

Owner Kirby Atterbury reported smoke billowing from the restaurant and volunteers led by First Asst. Fire Chief Edward J. Parnell raced to the scene.

Parnell reported slight smoke damage.

Mill Valleyan Heads Stevenson Supporters

Edward L. Taylor, 402 Eldridge avenue, Mill Valley, is the new Marin County chairman of Californians for Stevenson, aimed at furthering the candidacy of Adlai E. Stevenson for president.

Taylor, a teacher in San Francisco's George Washington High School, will head a corps of Stevenson supporters in Marin County in setting up cardtable petition centers, collecting signatures and donations to assist Stevenson's candidacy.

Mill Valley Sets Rezoning Hearing

The Mill Valley City Council will hold a public hearing at 8 p.m. tomorrow on a request for changing the zoning of a portion of Garden Hill Unit 2 from a minimum lot size of one acre to a minimum of 10,000 square feet.

Also on the agenda will be city engineer's reports on the general drainage plan for the Sutton Manor area and the circulation of traffic in the East Blithedale avenue and Lomita drive area.

No Objections To Bulkhead Plan

The Army Corps of Engineers has received no objection to proposed construction of a bulkhead on the south side of the San Rafael Canal, approximately 1,500 feet from the Irwin street bridge, Paul L. Vredenburg, chief of the operations division of the San Francisco office, said today.

Protests were to be filed in the district office by Saturday.

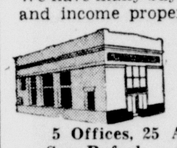

Herbert A. Crocker and Co. of San Rafael applied for the permit to build the bulkhead that would bring that portion of the canal up to new alignment standards.

The city has already granted the company a permit to build the structure.

Fact That Boy Is Quiet Does Not Mean That He Is Abnormal

"Is my son normal?" a mother asks. "He seems to be too quiet.

"He won't talk when he is in a group. He is 16, and afraid to ask girls for dates. I tried to force him to go to a dancing school. He refused. He would have run away if I had insisted, so I gave in. He has three very close friends. He seems to need no others.

"He is healthy and not delinquent. He gets good grades. His teachers like him. But I wish he were as noisy as other teen-agers. Is it right for him to be so quiet?"

No two teen-agers are alike. Some normal youngsters are noisy, social minded, active. Other equally normal ones are quiet and retiring. Most young people fall between the extremes.

Those who are abnormal usually show symptoms of strain. Does your boy have any of these difficulties—frequent scary nightmares; irrational fears, like a deathly fear of the dark, or of high places; migraine headaches; stubborn allergies which turn up without apparent cause; nervous eye disorders, or even temporary blindness? Does he hear well, suffer from insominia or bedwetting?

If your answers to these questions are "no," you probably are worrying unnecessarily.

"Im glad your boy has close friends. Two or three are all he needs. Completely friendless, isolated youngsters usually are neurotic. I'm also glad that he gets good grades. Obviously he can organize things well and isn't afraid of work. He'll become interested in girls later.

Don't try to change your son. He'll resent it if you do. Many of the folks who read this will think you're lucky to have such a quiet boy.

College Girls Club To Aid Handicapped

By DOROTHY SIMPERS

One of the College of Marin's service clubs—frequent targets of criticism because they have been more "social" than "service"—has offered to help young victims of muscular dystrophy.

With the enthusiastic cooperation of the Marin chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Assn., the 12 members of Penta Kai Dek Club will serve as a crew of "sitters," relieving parents for a while from the constant responsibility of caring for their muscular dystrophied children.

Mrs. Louis Crottogini of Kentfield, who is in charge of patient services for the association, said the girls and their sponsor, College of Marin teacher Mildred Wollet, decided a service club should be of service in the community.

TOLD FACTS

Club members met with Mrs. Crottogini and Wallace Williams, executive representative from New York for the association.

They learned that muscular dystrophy is a chronic disease of the muscles. There is a gradual weakening of the voluntary muscles, and the patient is eventually confined to a wheelchair and then to his bed.

They learned, too, that some parents never get away from the responsibility of caring for their children almost constantly.

Each girl in the club, or two girls, may choose a child, care for him for a few hours to relieve parents or, perhaps, take him on picnics or other outings.

PLANNING PARTY

The club is tentatively planning a get-acquainted party for Saturday. Members have learned of at least five youngsters whose parents would welcome their services.

The Penta Kai Deks plan to make this a permanent project.

Williams told the girls that no special training would be needed to work with the muscular dystrophy victims. The disease is not contagious.

To learn the best ways of handling a particular patient and moving him, the girls will work with the parents at first. Most of the patients are in wheelchairs.

All of the members have done this type of work before. One worked at crippled children's playground, and others with handicapped children. One was a nurse's aid.

WELCOME SERVICE

Mrs. Crottogini pointed out that most of the parents with children suffering from this disease have spent so much on treatment and care that they can't afford sitters. So the club's services will be most welcome.

"They will have the association's full cooperation. We are overjoyed to have someone take an interest."

The Penta Kai Deks believe their's is the first service club at the college to do anything like this. Other clubs have had sporadic projects, but none has had a continuing program of service, it is believed.

Miss Wollet, who teaches sociology and health education, took over club sponsorship about a month ago. She had long been a critic of the service clubs' failure to live up to their name.

Car Hits House In San Rafael

A woman driver ran her car over a San Rafael lawn Sunday night and rammed a home at 15 Broadview court, San Rafael police reported.

Leonard Ralph Jacobsen of 15 Broadview court told police the car damaged his lawn and shrubs, then hit the side of his house about 9 o'clock last night. He said the car was driven by a Mrs. Hibbard of 58 Broadview drive. Jacobsen estimated total damage at less than $500.

Marinites Attend Fire Assn. Meeting

Marin delegates have returned from a three-day California Rural Fire Assn. annual meeting in Bakersfield which discussed liquid petroleum gas fire-fighting techniques.

Attending were Frank J. Buscher, Tiburon fire chief, of Tiburon, of the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau; Lawrence (Bunk) Mercereau, Belvedere fire chief, and Chester Kirby, Homestead Valley fire chief.

Blackout Victim's Car Found

A car belonging to a Novato brush salesman, who says he had a 400-mile blackout between Marin and Los Angeles a week ago, was found in front of the Novato Post Office, sheriff's deputies reported yesterday.

Some cash and an automatic pistol under the front seat were missing.

Louis T. Pender of 1248 Yukon way told Sgt. Edward Levine he was driving in front of Olive street school about 8 p.m. a week ago when he blacked out. The next thing he recalls, he said, is waking up in a Los Angeles police station about 8 a.m. the next day.

Last Friday, his car was was found in front of the post office.

Pender said that about $327 in cash, $140 in checks made out to himself, and the gun are gone. The other checks were found in the back floorboard neatly clipped together. All of his brush products and sample case were intact.

Pender said he has suffered blackouts in the past, but never for such a length of time.

GIs Go Nautical With Surplus Navy Craft

It's anchors aweigh and out to sea for an Army unit at Ft. Barry.

No, the GI's haven't joined the Navy. But they've acquired a boat.

It started several weeks ago when a notice from the Navy came through the orderly room of the Headquarters Battery, 40th Artillery Brigade, one of the Army's Nike air defense units. The notice stated that Navy surplus ships were being offered to other service units prior to going up for public sale.

First Sgt. Merle Steele, aware there were fishing and boating enthusiasts within the unit (and being one himself), decided to look into the possibilities. Taking a couple of the unit noncoms along for moral support, he went window-shopping at the Navy salvage yard in Vallejo.

The hull that struck his landlubber's fancy was a 36-foot diesel engined LCP (landing craft, personnel). Termed a "shovelnose" by the Navy, it had been used during World War II as a landing craft for the officers of the Chara, a large maintenance ship recently put into mothballs.

After two weeks of Army-Navy red tape, the craft was transferred to the 40th Brigade's Headquarters Battery for "rest, recuperation and recreation."

The next problem was getting it home.

A neighboring unit at Ft. Barry, the 561st Engineers, solved most of the 36-foot problem by supplying a 30-foot lowboy trailer. A permit from the California Highway Patrol took care of the six-foot hangover, and the ex-sailor was taken to its new home, an Army harbor at Ft. Baker.

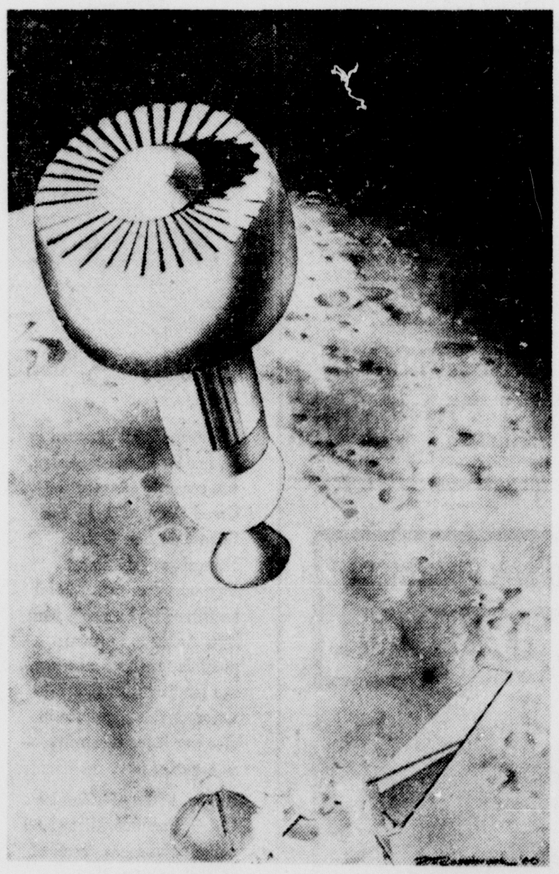

Meanwhile, back in the boat, Sergeant Steele and a couple of the unit privates (whom he had selected as bosun and first mate) inspected the craft for seaworthiness. They scrutinized it meticulously. Fully satisfied, they boarded ship and put out to sea.

It promptly sank.

When the tide went out. Sergeant Steele and his crew of soldier-sailors rescued the craft and conducted a second inspection. They were embarrassed to discover that two of the rear drain plugs were open.

A second launching (drain plugs inserted) proved more successful. Satisfied now that the craft was entirely seaworthy, the soldiers decided to conduct a contest to select a name for the boat. After a three-day "name that boat" contest within the battery, the LCP was officially dubbed the Bonnie Barry.

According to Sergeant Steele, the Bonnie Barry will be for the use of the men of the unit. It will be scheduled for weekend cruises and fishing trips, with the participants sharing operating expenses.

This drawing was released by Aeronutronic, a Ford Motor Co. division, in Newport, which has been selected by National Aeronautics and Space Administration for negotiations leading to construction of the 300-pound package to be impacted on the moon within next two years. It will be launched from a larger space craft now being constructed at Pasadena. (AP Wirephoto)

Man Guilty In Attack

Norvan Daniel Arnold, 24, of San Rafael, who knocked on a Novato apartment Saturday night and attacked an engineer who opened the door, is guilty of battery and drunkenness.

Arnold, who lives at 126 Auburn street, was found guilty by Judge Leonard A. Thomas in Marin Municipal Court yesterday. He admitted being drunk when he knocked on the door of Edward James Murphy, 49, at the Pacifica Apartments, 7020 Redwood Highway, Novato. He told the judge he doesn't remember attacking Murphy.

Murphy, a diesel electrical engineer working at Hamilton Air Force Base, said a man knocked on his door about 8 p.m. When he answered, Arnold, a stranger, knocked him down and began choking him, he claimed. Neighbors pulled Arnold off and called the sheriff.

A probation report and sentencing of Arnold is set for 3 p.m. on May 24.

Jaycees In Novato Taking Inventory Of Traffic Signs

Novatans need not be alarmed if they happen to notice groups of men wandering about the city streets counting stop signs and "No-U-Turn" markers.

It will only be members of the Novato Chamber of Commerce taking inventory of the city's traffic signs as agreed upon at their regular dinner meeting at Novato Joe's Thursday.

Appearing as guest and explaining the need for the traffic sign inventory was City Clerk Robert O. Bailey, who told the jaycees the job must be done before the city's overall traffic ordinance can be enacted.

Also agreed upon was "adoption" by the jaycees of a unit at Hamilton Air Force Base during Armed Forces Week.

State Agencies In Big Jump In California

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The amazing growth of California's state government—much faster than the rate of population increase—has been revealed in statistics showing 21 new agencies have been created since Gov. Edmund G. Brown took office.

In addition, the number of state employees has jumped by more than 38 per cent in four years. The 1956-57 budget provided for 83,456 state employees and the total in the 1960-61 budget was 115,601.

NEW OFFICES

The 1959 Legislature set 14 new agencies up in business, several of them prominent features of Borwn's legislative programs. New agencies set up in 1959, along with the 1959-60 appropriation for their support (most had higher budgets in 1960-61) included:

1. Fair Employment Practices Commission and the Division of Fair Employment Practices, $202,953.

2. Coordinator of atomic energy development and radiation protection, $22,705.

3. Consumer counsel, $45,000.

4. Economic Development Agency, $335,754.

5. Golden Gate Authority Commission, $250,000.

6. Capitol Building and Planning Commission, indeterminate cost.

OFFICER TRAINING

7. State Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training, indeterminate cost.

8. Committee to Encourage Selection, Performance and Publication of Music of Merit by Western Composers, indeterminate cost.

9. Fairs Allocations and Classification Committee, travel and per diem of committeemen.

10. Fish and Sea Food Advisory Board, costs to be defrayed by industry assessment.

11. Lincoln Sesquicentennial Commission of California, no cost.

12. State Office of Planning, indeterminate but significant potential costs.

13. Division of Recreation in Department of Natural Resources, $109,093.

14. Collection agency licensing and regulation, California Advisory Board of Collection Agencies.

1960 SESSION

The 1960 budget and special sessions, of much briefer duration, formed half as many new groups as were created in the 1959 general session, including:

1. Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board, $500,000.

2. Board of trustees, state colleges, $81,860. This agency is authorized to hire its own staff, including architects, and is expected to develop into a major department.

3. Coordinating Council, higher education, $50,000.

4. Interdepartmental Committee on Aging, $38,600.

5. Commission on Metropolitan Area Problems, $34,512.

6. Special Commission on Narcotics, $50,000.

7. Commission on Problems of Insanity in Criminal Cases, $90,000.

The foregoing does not include the numerous citizens committees and advisory groups which have been appointed by the governor. Members of such groups generally serve without pay.

Aid To Retarded Children Will Elect Officers

Mrs. Philip Lemler, 103 Kinross drive, San Rafael, heads the list of nominees to be voted upon at next Monday's meeting of Marin Aid to Retarded Children at 8 p.m. in the E Street School, San Rafael.

Nominated with her are H. D. Harrington, 10 Corte de Sabla, Greenbrae, first vice president; Robert Graham, 49 Mercury avenue, Belveron Gardens, second vice president; Mrs. K. E. Buckley, 90 Martling drive, San Anselmo, secretary, and Mrs. Fay Blair, 752 Penny Royal lane, Terra Linda, treasurer.

Mrs. Marvin Good of Novato, is now president of MARC, which operates a nursery school and a recreation program for school-age children, and will open a work training center for young adults next fall.

Career Speakers

Wilda Jane Derryberry, Marin General Hospital dietician, and Virginia Porter of the agriculture extension service were recent speakers on careers before girls homemaking classes at Sir Francis Drake High School.

Music Chest Extends Drive

The subscription drive for the Marin Music Chest summer concert season has been extended until May 15, Mrs. William Rattray, drive chairman, announced today.

The summer season opens June 19 at Forest Meadows with the appearance of Brian Sullivan, guest tenor from the Metropolitan Opera Co.

Subscriptions are available at Hoy's, San Rafael, the Opera Symphony box office at the Sherman, Clay and Co., San Francisco, or from local Marin Music chest chairmen.

Other artists scheduled to appear this summer are Nan Merriman, mezzo-soprano, on July 31, and Eugene Istomin, pianist, on Aug. 21. The date for the appearance of the San Francisco Ballet accompanied by members of the San Francisco Symphony has not been announced yet.

300 Attend Reed Arts Festival

More than 300 persons attended the first Reed Union School District all-arts festival Saturday afternoon in the Bel Aire School, chairman Mrs. Seymour Whitelaw reported.

Two hundred and fifty arts and craft exhibits were displayed and 75 prose and poetry selections were read by seventh and eighth grade drama students. Richard Hahn, president of the Reed School Student Council, was master of ceremonies.

Englishman Sir Henry Bessemer invented the process for making steel in 1856.

MISS PONY EXPRESS — Deanne Garibaldi, a freshman at Dominican College, has been named Miss Pony Express of California. She will compete for the national title in June. Miss Garibaldi, who lives in Sutter Creek, owns three horses which she exhibits in Northern California.

College Sets Three-Day Jazz Festival

Jazz comes to the College of Marin campus at Kentfield again May 12, 13 and 14.

Those are the dates for the second annual Marin Jazz Festival, sponsored by the college's student body.

Young collegiate and community jazz groups and bands will again compete for trophies.

Programs on May 12 and 13 will get under the way at 8 p.m. in Olney Hall. Seven groups and bands are scheduled for the opening night program, including the Walt Lennon quartet from the host school. The Spud Murphy band and the Ron Di Masi quartet will make special, non-competitive appearances that evening. Wally Ray of radio station KDIA will be master of ceremonies.

Six groups including the College of Marin big band conducted by Tom Chesnut will play on May 13. Non-competitive appearances are scheduled for that night by the Mike Moss Octet and the Olema Owls. Jerry Dean of KJAZ will preside.

The May 14 program will begin at 8:30 and will take place in the college gym. Pat Henry of KJAZ will be master of ceremonies. There will be special music by Dixieland pianist Wally Rose, and by the Virgil Gonsalves big band. The Gonsalves band recently appeared on the Miles Davis concert program in San Francisco and won the acclaim of jazz critics.

After the "show," trophies will be awarded. The awards will be in two categories, bands of seven or more members, and groups of six or less. Selections will be by a panel of six judges of professional musicians and critics.

The grand ball will follow the trophy awards with the music to be provided by the Gonsalves aggregation, and by the Corinthians.

The first Marin Jazz Festival held at Kentfield last year proved to be highly successful and attracted widespread attention in jazz circles. It is believed to the the only college-community jazz competition of its kind on the West Coast.

African Defense Aide To Speak

The West Coast representative of the South African Defense Fund will speak on her experiences as a resident of South Africa in a public lecture tomorrow at 10 a.m. in Stewart Memorial Chapel on the San Francisco Theological Seminary campus in San Anselmo.

Cove Players Complete Casting For Mystery

Casting has been completed for the Cove Players' June production of J. B. Priestley's "An Inspector Calls."

"The seven actors chosen hail from San Francisco, Sausalito, Mill Valley, San Rafael, and Tiburon, and though four different countries are listed on their birth certificates, they have the unity required for the story of the Birling family," said Cove Player president, Arny Schultz.

In the play, a realistic mystery, Circa 1890, the Birlings will come to life to drive a young girl to her death. Dr. Earle M. Marsh of Mill Valley will direct the drama.

The three women will be played by Mrs. Benjamin (Babs) Dreyfus of Mill Valley as Mrs. Birling; Mary Severson of San Francisco, as Sheila Birling, and Marjorie R. Dukes of Tiburon as the maid.

Inspector Goole, who pins the Birlings against the mirror of truth, will be portrayed by Thomas Erhart of Mill Valley. Lee M. MacArthur of San Rafael has the part of Mr. Birley, a pretentious businessman who starts the victim down skid row to suicide.

Birling's introspective friend, Eric, who speeds the victim on to self destruction, will be played by David W. Barnett of Sausalito. Otto Porton of Tiburon will be Sheila's unrepented suitor, who values money higher than his conscience.

The stage set has been designed by Dorothy Carter, with a cycloramic background.

The play will be presented at the Tiburon Playhouse on Friday and Saturday nights for three weeks beginning June 3.

Historical Bonanza Turned Over To County Library

A bonanza for the historically minded, scholars and researchers, has been turned over to Mrs. Virginia Keating, Marin County librarian.

In four cardboard cartons are the loose leaf files of years of work done in this district by the Works Projects Administration's Historical Records Survey and Writers Project.

The project director for the district, which included Sonoma and Lake, as well as Marin counties, was Clifford Flack of San Anselmo. He turned the files over to Mrs. Keating. He said that the originals had gone to the state project for compilation of a state history.

For more than four years, WPA researchers worked on the project. Some of these did research uncovering historical material of great value, interviewing pioneers, searching legal records and writing treatises on their findings.

Other writers scanned newspaper files, copying stories which had historical significance. Many of these were obituaries of early day residents of the county.

Under Flack's direction about 12 writers worked in San Rafael, headquarters for Marin. There were three writers in Sonoma County, while "Lake did not do much work" Flack recalls.

The files are being processed by Mrs. Keating and her staff. She said the articles will be studied for duplication of material and then will be divided for indexing under many classifications.

Ultimatum Given On Property Deal

Schultz Investment Co. of Greenbrae, which lost five and one-half acres to the state for the Greenbrae interchange, will get a new trial to set severance damage unless the state pays $15,000 to Schultz by May 23.

This ruling came yesterday from Judge Jordan L. Martinelli of Marin Superior Court after an appeal for a new trial by Neils Schultz.

In March, 1959, Schultz got $58,000 for the land which the state condemned, but no severance damage was awarded. In March this year, a jury decided 9 to 3 that no severance damage should be given.

During this trial, Schultz contends that one of the jurors, Norman Canziani, who has a slaughterhouse at Lucas Valley road, was seen conversing with a highway right of way agent.

Schultz, represented by attorney Albert E. Bagshaw, filed an affidavit to make these contentions:

The state had recently acquired property from Canziani without litigation and in a manner satisfactory to Canziani. The Division of Highways was also negotiating with him to obtain property on the east side of Highway 101 south of Lucas Valley road, where Canziani's slaughterhouse is located.

Canziani had filed an application with the county planning commission for an expansion of the slaughterhouse. The highway department told the planners that the addition would be in an area needed by the highway and asked that the application be postponed for at least 30 days. Right of way agent Charles P. Semple was negotiating for the Canziani property.

During a noon recess in the Schultz trial for severance damage, Schultz said he saw juror Canziani talking to highway agent Semple on the courthouse steps.

After the trial, Canziani got a call from the Division of Highways saying that there was no objection to Canziani's expanding his slaughterhouse.

Bagshaw, Schultz's attorney, said Canziani was one of the jurors who was strongly for the state during jury deliberations. Were it not for Canziani's strong stand, the verdict may not have been against Schultz in the severance trial, the attorney held.

Sausalito Foundation Seeks Funds

The newly formed Sausalito Foundation has taken on a formal status and opened a drive for funds, Donald J. Duncan Jr. announced today.

Duncan, elected president of the group at its organizational meeting Saturday, said contributions in any amount are being accepted. Donations may be mailed to the foundation in care of Post Office Box 567, Sausalito. Such donations, Duncan pointed out, are tax deductible.

Dedicated to retaining and improving the city's natural, scenic and recreational values, the foundation is pointing its first effort toward helping the city acquire a series of underwater lots at Shelter Cove. Duncan emphasized, however, that this is only the beginning of a long-range program.

Named to posts on the foundation's 15-member board of trustees, along with Duncan, were Kelso Norman, vice president; Milton Kodmur, secretary and Alice Williams, treasurer; George F. Carney, Dorothy Cousins, M. S. Cowen, Philip S. Ehrlich Jr., Margaret Forde, M. Justin Herman, John R. Minton, John F. O'Brien, Marsha Owen, Carl W. Spring and Dr. Thomas Wiper.

Incorporation papers for the foundation were filed last week in Sacramento, Duncan said.

Clerk Wants Salary As Jury Commissioner

Marin County Clerk George S. Jones has decided it's about time he started collecting the $1,500 per year due him as jury commissioner.

Jones has performed the additional duties of commissioner with out compensation ever since he took over the job.

He told the county board of supervisors, during 1960-61 budget hearings yesterday that the superior court judges suggested he receive the salary which has been set up by law for many years.

"I was entitled to it the first time I took over as jury commissioner," he said.

Jones told the supervisors that in other bay communities jury commissioners collect $10,000-$15,000 per year. "I think after 34 years in county service I am entitled to it," he said.

The $1,500 is included in the superior court budget, which was approved today by the supervisors.

Jones commented that he saw all the other commissioners collecting large salaries and decided he should start getting the salary he is entitled to.

"Why is your rate so much lower than their's?" Chairman Walter R. Castro asked Jones, with a smile.

Snapped Jones: "If I wanted to go to the Legislature like them, I could persuade them I was worth more money," he said.
